Two Brothers Fall Through Ice, Drown

TOY DISPLAYS LURE BUCYRUS BOYS TO DEATH

Sandusky River Victims, Age 4 and 6, Were on Way to See Store Windows.

FIREMEN FIND BODIES

Search Begins After They Fail to Return for Supper; Cap Found on Thin Ice.

BUCYRUS—A desire to see displays of Christmas toys at downtown stores late yesterday afternoon resulted in the death of two brothers who fell through thin ice in the Sandusky river and drowned.

Jerry, 6, and Robert Watts, 4, sons of Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Watts, of 610 West Mansfield street, went to their deaths shortly after 4 p. m. in the river located a block from the home.

Hunt With Grappling Hooks.

The bodies of the boys were not found until 8 p. m. when police and firemen located them with grappling hooks pulled from a row boat.

Mrs. Watts said her sons had talked about going downtown to see the toy displays earlier in the day. They left their home shortly after 4 p. m.

The mother did not become alarmed until she missed them at supper time, she told authorities. Believing that the boys had gone downtown and had become lost, she notified police.

Cap Tells of Tragedy.

Finding no trace of the brothers downtown, Clyde Bamberger, an uncle, searched in the vicinity of the home. Just before dusk, he found a cap of one of the boys lying near two holes in the ice.

Police and firemen then continued the search with grappling hooks and a half-hour later the two bodies were discovered several feet apart in six feet of water. They had been in the water about 4 hours, it is believed.

Their father was in Tiffin on business yesterday and was immediately notified of the tragedy. The only survivor, in addition to the parents, is a sister, Dorothy, 8.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

'Girl Friend' of Hitler, Snubbed In Hollywood, Leaves

Her manager, Ernest Jaeger, denied that she had come here from Germany to study the industry. She was here "only for the scenery," he said. That apparently was all she was going to see. One night club had "no accommodations" for her party, one studio barred its doors to her, and several others let it be known that she would not be welcomed.

One major producer, 20th Century-Fox, said she would be welcomed as any other distinguished visitor—but only if the consulate requested it. The consulate said it regarded her only as a "prominent citizen," not an official, and made no request.

The "No Welcome" sign was out to her at Universal studio, which employed her in a role in "S. O. S. Iceberg," filmed in Greenland five years ago. It was her only part in an American picture.

DOG LARCENY?

"News Hound" Missing, Money-Changer and All.

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—"Butch," St. Louis' only "news hound," is missing—and his owner had two reasons today for wanting him back.

Newsboy "Noisy" Kilfoy spent several months training the dog to stand at the corner with a money-changer strapped to its side, allowing customers to make their own change.

Then both the dog and money-changer disappeared.

Gold Fish Survive Crash

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Elmer Kotulik, 20, performed the best juggling act of the week.

He was sitting in the rear seat of a sedan with a bowl of goldfish on his lap when the car was involved in a collision.

Kotulik was hurled over the front seat, but as he sailed forward, he held the fish bowl tightly against the car's ceiling.

Result: Kotulik, bowl, water and fish remained intact.

SUBMIT SLATE FOR NEW CITY PARKS BOARD

C. of C., Parks Group and Five Garden Clubs to Send Mayor List of Recommendations.

A slate of recommendations for appointment to the new board of park commissioners today had been drafted by the Chamber of Commerce committee on parks and city beautification, the Mansfield Public parks association and the city's five garden clubs.

The selections were made at a joint meeting of the organizations last night at the chamber's assembly rooms, Paul W. Williams, secretary of the chamber said.

The recommendations are to be sent to Mayor Claude M. Hunter who is to name a three-man board.

Creation of the three-man park board was authorized by popular vote at the Nov. 8 election.

Keep Slate Secret.

The mayor a few days ago said he had been waiting for the recommendations from the separate organizations before naming the commission. He has already received a recommendation from the parks association, which endorsed its president, Roy C. Vaughn.

Williams today declined to reveal the names of the persons who had been recommended to the mayor for appointment by the group.

However, it was learned from representatives who attended the meeting that they had been sworn to secrecy on their selections. One representative said however, that "about seven names" had made up the slate from which the mayor is expected to select three.

The mayor indicated today that he will make the appointments soon after he receives the recommendations.

VOTES DIVIDEND

Tappan Stove to Pay 80 Cents a Share for Last Quarter.

Payment of an 80-cent dividend on its common stock for the final quarter of the year was announced today by the Tappan Stove company. The company has no preferred stock.

The dividend, approved by the company's board of directors, will be made Dec. 15 to stockholders of record Dec. 7. Last September, the company paid a 20-cent dividend.

Officials of the company said that while business for the quarter was about 15 per cent under the rate for the same period in 1937, the company had fared better than the gas range industry generally, which was 37 per cent under last year's figures.

Members of the board are A. C. Rhoads, A. P. Tappan, W. H. Tappan, P. R. Tappan, C. V. McConnell, and R. M. Lamb of Mansfield, and W. C. Horr of Cleveland.

ADMITS CRIME

Suspect Confesses Kidnaping of Elyria Woman, Police Say.

GRAND FORKS, N. D.—(U.P.)—Police announced today that John Simmons, who was seized yesterday on information supplied by federal agents, had confessed the abduction of Mrs. Louise Rose Epley, Elyria, O., in May, 1937.

Simmons told police he and Frank Spinley, both hitch hikers, had obtained a ride from Mrs. Epley at Elyria. They forced her to drive them to Buffalo, N. Y., and released her there unharmed.

U. S. ORDERS PENSIONS FOR OHIO RESUMED

Negotiations With Bricker Result in Decision to Give State Funds.

ENDS DAVEY DISPUTE

Ruling Opens Path to Send Out November Checks; State Loses October Funds.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON — The Social Security board today announced resumption of federal Social Security payments to Ohio.

The board announced that its aid to Ohio of about $1,250,000 per month would be resumed and used as partial payment of pensions to 112,500 pensioners in the state.

The board announced that major improvements in the administration of the Ohio system warranted the resumption.

Bid Severed Oct. 1.

Payments to Ohio were cut off Oct. 1 after a prolonged controversy between the board and Gov. Martin Davey concerning board charges of maladministration of the state pension set-up.

Pensions were restored effective for November.

The board will not make up to the state the money withheld in October.

The board's action, it was learned, resulted from negotiations with Governor-elect John W. Bricker. It had been planned for Bricker to come here to discuss the matter with the board but Mrs. Bricker's illness caused the trip to be cancelled.

After a long controversy with Governer Davey, and a hearing here on charges brought against the Ohio administration, the board refused to approve payment of the October grant to Ohio until the Ohio pension division met 12 requirements laid down by the federal board.

Hurled 'Politics' Charge.

Governor Davey engaged in a dispute with the board, replying to the board's charges by accusing it of "playing politics."

When the chief of the pension division, Henry J. Berrodin, prepared to capitulate to the board and issued a statement confirming the truth of the board's charges, Governor Davey dismissed him. Wray Bevens, formerly a secretary to the governor, succeeded him.

Ohio's old age pension checks for October were paid in full after the state division had borrowed about $1,000,000 from the general revenue fund.

Checks for November, which should have been mailed between Nov. 15 and 25, have not been sent out. Norman Beck, chief deputy state auditor, said today that the checks were written in the full amount and were being held until the money could be obtained from one source or another.

All that is necessary to release the checks is a certification from State Finance Director M. Ray Allison. Beck said all pension checks could be mailed within a day or so after receiving such certification.

Hope For 5 On Plane Fades

All hope has been abandoned for the five persons missing in the crash of a west coast plane into the pounding surf along a rocky stretch of Pacific coast. Top picture shows a rescue worker peering into the wreckage of the plane, at the bottom of a steep cliff. Bottom left is Capt. Charles Stead, pilot, one of the two who escaped death. Right is Frona "Bobby" Clay, stewardess, one of the five missing.

All-American Smith To Be Banquet Toastmaster

Mansfielder Who Played Guard on Great Ohio State Team to Preside at News-Journal Party.

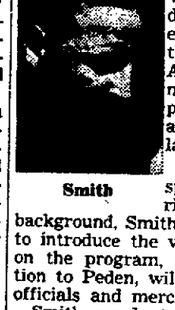
Inwood Smith, one of two Mansfield high school football products to achieve All-America fame, will serve as toastmaster at The News-Journal's fourth annual banquet staged in honor of Mansfield high school gridiron squads.

The event this year is scheduled at the Mansfield-Leland hotel at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday, and Don Peden, Ohio university coach, will be the principal speaker.

Tuesday will mark Smith's third appearance at a News-Journal banquet. He accompanied Francis Schmidt, Ohio State coach, and spoke briefly at the first banquet four years ago and again was a speaker two years ago.



Smith

Pete Henry, W. & J. athletic director, the other Mansfield boy to gain All-American recognition, was the principal speaker at the banquet last year.

A capable speaker with a rich football background, Smith's duties will be to introduce the various speakers on the program, which, in addition to Peden, will include school officials and merchants.

Smith graduated from Mansfield high in 1933 and from Ohio

MOORE LEAVES

Ohio Securities Chief Takes Up Federal Position.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— To the accompaniment of high praise of his work, Dan T. Moore retired today as chief of the state securities division and stepped immediately into a new position as regional administrator of the securities and exchange commission.

"Mr. Moore has placed Ohio in the foreground of American commonwealths in the matter of securities regulations," said Alfred A. Benesch, state director of commerce. "The law which was instrumently in drafting undoubtedly will be copied in many other jurisdictions."

No one to succeed Moore has been appointed, but James C. Gruener of Cleveland, Moore's first assistant, has been mentioned as a possible new chief.

City Rolls Up Sleeves to Help Fill Baskets for Muster-Cheers

By JANE WILLIAMS

IT'S STARTED.

The avalanche of community interest and help which makes possible the distribution of hundreds of Christmas baskets to Mansfield's needy families on Dec. 24.

Mrs. Ott.

As soon as yesterday's issue of The News-Journal appeared, with the first announcement of the annual Christmas project, telephones began to ring

"Glad the Three Muster-Cheers are on the job again this year—filling the Christmas baskets is a big job." . . . "Don't know what kind of a shindig you're having this year, but put me down for $10 worth of tickets." . . . "Find a good family for us to adopt again this year, will you? We got a big kick out of helping the one you gave us last year." . . . "If you need trucks for distribution when you pass out the baskets, you can have two from our place, including the drivers." . . .

Which just gives you an idea. C. M. Crafton, president of the Retail Merchants, called to offer the assistance of his group in selling tickets for the Christmas Ball at the Coliseum on Dec. 19, and 500 tickets will be sent out by Secretary V. H. Lodde this week.

Officers of women's clubs called to say that their groups would contribute canned food as they have in other years.

Arrangements were being made for the "can matinees" at three Mansfield theaters, at which canned food is the only admission price. Frank Harpster, manager of the Ohio theater, is chairman of this phase of the Community Christmas project.

First interest, however, centered in the Christmas Ball which will be given Monday night, Dec. 19, at the Coliseum, which will provide funds for the Christmas baskets.

GIRL KIDNAPED, PARENTS FEAR SHE WAS SLAIN

Marylyand Convent Student, 18, Seized as She and Sister Walk Along Highway.

ONE ESCAPES ABDUCTORS

Pulls Free as Two Men Seize Student, Force Her Into Large Truck.

(By United Press)

OXON HILL, Md.—Capt. Edward Johnson of the Maryland state police took charge today of the search for an attractive 18-year-old convent school girl and the two men who kidnaped her almost within sight of the national capital.

Arriving shortly before dawn at the farm home of the girl, Johnson planned to organize a systematic search of the surrounding countryside. An armed posse hunted most of the night for the girl or the kidnapers without success.

Johnson conferred with the frenzied father of the missing girl, William B. Brown, an employe of the government bureau of engraving and printing in Washington, as soon as he arrived.

Asks for FBI Aid.

The father later went personally to national offices of the federal bureau of investigation today to seek aid of the G-men in the hunt for his abducted 18-year-old daughter.

Believing his daughter had been attacked and murdered, he asked aid of G-men in hunting down the men who forced her into a truck last night on the outskirts of Washington.

Lucy, 15-year-old sister of Mary, who escaped the abductors by fleeing across fields, provided officers with their first tangible clue.

Accompanied by Baltimore detectives and Maryland state police, she returned to the muddy road seven miles from downtown Washington where her sister was ab-

MAIL $210,000

Banks Distribute Yule Savings Checks to 5,000 Today.

Distribution of approximately $210,000 in Christmas savings by Mansfield's four banks today was expected to provide a stimulant for the city's holiday shopping season.

Nearly 5,000 checks, ranging from $12.50 to $250, were placed in the mail with most of them going to persons in or near Mansfield, bankers said. The checks represented weekly savings deposited since last December.

About 32 per cent of the savings funds will be used for gift purchases, it was estimated, while the remainder will liquidate old debts or go into permanent savings accounts.

FINDS CLUE ON EMPTY BOTTLE

Fingerprints May Help Solve Lucas School Robbery.

Fingerprints on an empty milk bottle today provided Sheriff E. P. Long with a clue in the robbery of the Lucas school in which a quantity of food and some tools were stolen.

The bottle was found in the school cafeteria, from which most of the articles were stolen. The burglar, believed to be a youth, entered the building by jarring the lock loose on a window in the manual training room, Supt. V. L. Gilliland said.

He said the loot included six bottles of milk, a pound of bacon, two pounds of raisins, some canned goods, two screwdrivers and a sash cord.

COSTS BILLION

Public Debt Interest Charges To Mount Dec. 15.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Treasury experts estimated today that new federal borrowing scheduled for Dec. 15 will increase the interest cost of the public debt to more than $1,000,000,000 a year.

LOADED VEHICLE HIT BY SPEEDING TRAIN IN STORM

12 Others Believed Injured In Tragic Accident Near Salt Lake City This Morning; Bodies Scattered For Mile Along Railroad Tracks.

(By Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY—A fast freight train crashed into a loaded school bus during a snowstorm near here today, killing 26 and injuring at least a dozen others.

W. E. Speakman, chief clerk of the Rio Grande and Western railway, said 26 dead had been counted.

The bodies were taken to mortuaries throughout the city and attempts were being made to locate relatives to assist in identification. The victims were children between 12 and 16 years of age.

Mrs. Sarah Bergstrom, business superintendent of the Salt Lake General hospital, said she personally aided in the recovery of 18 bodies.

Estimates of the number of persons on the bus ranged from 40 to 60.

Dead and injured were scattered along the right-of-way for hundreds of feet.

The accident occurred at 8:56 a. m., MST, (10:56 Mansfield time), at a rural crossing about 10 miles south of here. The bus was bound for the Jordan high school.

The condition of the bodies and the inaccessibility of the crossing made a definite check of casualties difficult.

The train was reported to have been an hour late due to the snow storm, and was attempting to make up time.

The driver of the bus was Farrel Silcox. Most of the students were the children of farmers.

Blinded By Sleet, Belief.

Silcox was believed to have been unable to see the approaching train because of the sleet. He was among the injured taken to the hospital.

Dr. J. S. Alley of Midvale, who brought victims to the hospital, said:

"The freight train, about half a mile long, struck the bus broadside. It was traveling so fast the caboose was on the crossing by the time it stopped.

"The cab of the bus was tossed to one side, about 100 feet from

DALADIER SPURS ECONOMIC PLAN

Premier, Victorious in Labor Battle, Calls Parliament for Early Session.

(By Associated Press)

PARIS—Premier Daladier, having broken labor's effort to wreck his government by a general strike, announced today that he intended to call parliament into session Dec. 8 and demand from it approval of his policies.

In government circles it was believed the stocky premier would muster sufficient strength to override the opposition of the Communists and Socialists, who backed yesterday's abortive strike as a protest against his economic decree laws.

Organizes Program.

Daladier, undisputed master of the situation, has ordered a three-year state of "economic mobilization" for the nation to carry through his program.

For parliamentary support he counted on a majority composed of his own Radical-Socialist party and groups further to the right.

He conferred with individual ministers on plans for parliamentary approval of his decree laws, which provoked the unsuccessful protest strike, and planned a cabinet meeting before the end of the week to decide what punitive mea-

ACCUSED IN U. S. ESPIONAGE PLOT

Aircraft Employe Indicted For Selling Data To Japs.

LOS ANGELES—(U.P.)—An aircraft plant employe was indicted today on charges of trying to sell to Japanese secrets of newest fighting planes for America's rearmament.

The planes were the powerful "PB-1" type bombers and a revolutionary new combat ship called "an experimental job," yet on the drawing boards.

Federal officers said that Karl Drummond, 21, Inglewood, Cal., admitted taking 150 photographs and 15 blueprints and smuggling them out under his clothing.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON —(INS) —Homer Martin, youthful ex-preacher-president of the CIO's United Automobile Workers of America, today told the Dies committee investigating un-American activities that Communists have sought to capture the labor movement as a step toward establishing a Communist government in the United States.

At times appearing reluctant to testify, Martin nevertheless backed up speeches in which he has charged that Communists sought to take over his own automobile union, one of the biggest labor units in the nation.

NEW SECRETARY

Gallipolis Attorney Named by Bricker for Cabinet.

COLUMBUS —(AP)— Harry M. Miller, 35-year-old Gallipolis attorney, today was named as Gov.-Elect John W. Bricker's executive secretary at an annual salary of $5,000.

Bricker takes office Jan. 9. The only other principal administrative aid he has named is William S. Evatt as finance director.

Miller, three times prosecutor of Gallia county, is chairman of the county Republican executive committee. He attended Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio State universities.

The salary is $1,000 less than the amount being paid Daniel S. Earhart, Gov. Martin L. Davey's executive secretary.

TAX LAW UPHELD

But Supreme Court Holds Refund of Penalties Invalid.

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Constitutionality of the Whittemore act, providing for installment payment of delinquent taxes, was upheld by the supreme court today with the exception of the provision for refund of a penalty already paid. The court held that provision unconstitutional.

Suit attacking the law's constitutionality was instituted by Prosecuting Attorney Dudley M. Outcalt of Hamilton county in an action to compel collection of penalties and interest which had been remitted to taxpayers.

MADISON SEEKS $17,000 LOAN TO PAY RELIEF

Township in Debt $6,000 and General Fund Exhausted, Asks State Okay.

Madison township trustees today sought permission of State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson to borrow $17,000 for financing the township's relief burden.

Already in debt $6,000, and with the general fund exhausted, trustees were forced to seek a bank loan by the failure of a proposed tax levy for relief purposes to pass at the August primary, Fred J. Stahlheber, clerk, asserted.

If the state auditor approves the loan proposal, the trustees would issue four notes for $4,250 each, payable over a four-year period from the township's share of state excise taxes.

Law Provides for Loans.

The borrowing against future collections was provided for in a bill passed early this year by the state legislature as an emergency measure for sub-divisions without relief funds.

Stahlheber said the township's relief bill for November would be approximately $1,800, an increase of from $500 to $600 from the preceding month.

The township received an average of slightly more than $1,000 a month in state funds to pay bills and must make up the difference from its own funds, the clerk said.

The trustees transferred $10,000 from their road and bridge fund to a special relief fund several months ago and have used all the available money from that source, he added.

DOCTORS WARN FOLKS WHO ARE CONSTIPATED

IT IS SAID constipation causes many human discomforts—headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness being but a few. BUT DON'T WORRY—

For years a noted Ohio Doctor, Dr. F. M. Edwards, successfully treated scores of patients for constipation with his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now sold by druggists everywhere.

Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are harmless. They not only gently yet thoroughly cleanse the bowels but ALSO assist liver bile flow to help digest fatty foods. Test their goodness TONIGHT without fail! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢.

BAGGY RINGS UNDER Your EYES?

May Be Due To Lazy KIDNEYS!

Bladder irritation, getting up nights, leg pains, backache, puffy ankles and dark circles under eyes may mean you need a good kidney diuretic. But, remember, your kidneys are very delicate!

So if flow is too scanty and you want to speed up elimination of ordinary waste acid products—DON'T take harsh, drastic products. Instead try this mild yet highly effective LIQUID diuretic—a little daily dose of Kruschen Salts in warm water—a superbly healthful mineral drink similar to famous medicinal European Spa waters.

Don't fail to get Kruschen today. A jar costs only a few cents and must help you wonderfully or money back. At Central Drug Store, and druggists everywhere.

Trick Shot Artist In City

Plans to Open Golf School

Swing's the Thing, He Says

By OSCAR RUHL, News-Journal Sports Editor.

THERE are only 20 shopping days before Christmas, a few more before the baseball players point their noses toward the training camps and a good many more before the golf army starts its annual march to the links.

But Wee Willie MacLean, trick-shot golf artist, a native of Canada and a member of the professional ranks, is not allowing any grass to grow under his nimble underpinnings.

A small, wiry veteran of nearly three decades on the greenswards of Canada and the United States, MacLean is a current Mansfield visitor. MacLean likes Mansfield (Chamber of Commerce please copy), and he plans on making this city his winter residence.

His plans are to open an indoor golf school in the city. He has not found a location as yet, but expects to be situated within a few weeks. Meanwhile, he plans to get acquainted with Mansfielders by staging exhibitions at club gatherings and stores.

MacLean doesn't profess to be strictly a trick-shot artist. His record shows that he can swing a mean club in regular fashion, too. He also has gained quite a reputation as an instructor.

The Canadian is not a fundamentalist, either. He has his own ideas about this game of golf and practices what he preaches. He contends modern day tutors teach too much theory. For instance, he uses what might be described as a baseball grip. But he gets results, according to the load of newspaper clippings he lugs along.

MacLean's theory of golf simplifies golf instruction. He doesn't believe in giving the golfer too many things to think about. "The swing's the thing and if a golfer can master the swing that's about all there is to the game," he preaches. "I teach my pupils to take the club back and out and bring it down in the same circle."

Toured Tough Baltusrol Course In 79 With Putter.

MAC LEAN boasts proudly of his uncanny ability to score by using only a putter, and also by his deadly accuracy with a No. 7 iron. He produced clippings showing his remarkable performances with a putter. He played the difficult Baltusrol course at Short Hills, N. J., where a recent National Open was staged, in 79, and he toured other famous courses in identical figures.

Hailing originally from Alberta, MacLean says he can drive 175 yards consistently with one hand and a putter. Shots the "wee Scot" carries in his bag of tricks includes driving all shots with one hand, driving left-handed with all clubs, driving a straight ball with the toe of a driver and hitting two balls, catching one in his hand and driving the other away. His mastery of these tricks makes him the No. 1 rival to Joe Kirkwood as the world's best trick-shot artist.

One of the real veterans of the links game, MacLean toured the golf circuit for many years and spent many more as a pro. He's an interesting character and, apparently, knows what he's talking about.

Tygers Select All-Opponent Elevens.

NO FOOTBALL season is complete until each newspaper has offered at least one all-star team. So today The News-Journal presents the Mansfield high all-opponent teams. They were selected by the Tygers themselves and here they are:

FIRST TEAM: Toles, Massillon, and Roman, Canton, ends; McMichaels, Massillon, and Ondo, Canton, tackles; Mondel, Akron Kenmore, and Judson, Hammond, Ind., guards; Stevens, Shelby, center, and Zielski, Sandusky; Shimala, Hammond; Zimmerman, Massillon, and Miller, Akron Kenmore, backs.

SECOND TEAM: Maus, Sandusky, and McClosky, Akron West, ends; Anders, Sandusky, and Payne, Shelby, tackles; Russell, Massillon, and Deming, Sandusky, guards; Heinz, Sandusky, center, and Savage, Canton; Slusser, Massillon; Lockhart, Canton, and Snyder, Massillon, backs.

THIRD TEAM: Johnson, Akron West, and Oglesby, Sandusky, ends; Leavitt, Columbus East, and Lucius, Massillon, tackles; Carsey, Akron Kenmore, and Houston, Massillon, guards; Martin, Massillon, center, and Bliss, Shelby; Motley, Canton; Pensenik, Akron Kenmore, and Gant, Sandusky, backs.

Tyger Gridsters Hold Edge In Everything But Victories

MANSFIELD high gridmen advanced approximately a mile and a quarter through the air and over land during their late football campaign which netted only four victories in nine games, the season's statistics reveal.

The Tygers accumulated 12,431 yards from passing and rushing in the nine games to 2,099 for the opponents, with 1797 of the Mansfield yards coming on the ground. Opponents gained 1,586 yards from rushing.

Mansfield compiled a total of 112 first downs, 88 from rushing, 21 from pasing and three from penalties. Opponents made 79 first downs, 60 from rushing, 14 from passing and five from penalties.

A total of 167 yards was lost by the Tygers from rushing and 384 from penalties. The Tygers threw opposing teams for losses amounting to 207 and they were penalized 295.

Mansfield completed 67 out of 155 passes and had 16 intercepted. Opponents completed only 38 out of 111 throws, but lost the ball nine times by interceptions.

The Tygers' punting average was 31.5 yards from the line of scrimmage to 29.4 for opponents. Mansfield had two punts blocked and blocked two. Mansfield returned kicks 776 yards to 591 for opponents. Coach Russ Murphy's men were guilty of 37 fumbles and opponents bobbled 19 times. They recovered 13 fumbles committed by opponents, while the Tygers lost the ball 19 times in this fashion.

MARSHALL STUDENTS VOTE TO QUIT BUCKEYE LOOP

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Marshall college officials were inclined to take lightly today a vote of students and faculty members which requested that the Thundering Herd school immediately withdraw from the Buckeye conference.

The vote was conducted by the Parthenon, the school paper, and final results, when tabulated, expressed a desire for abrupt and unconditional withdrawal.

WESTERN RESERVE SQUAD FAVORS ANOTHER GAME

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Western Reserve's football's squad, which finished its schedule undefeated and untied, today went on record in favor of playing a post-season bowl game. But it was probably too late.

A petition, signed by members of the team and urging acceptance of any invitation which might be extended to Reserve, was handed to Athletic Director Karl Davis.

Forsythe, Robertson Roll 1260 Total In City Doubles League

Sonny Meder Sets Pace for Individuals With 268 Game, 655 Count.

CLIFF FORSYTHE and Earl C. Robertson formed a perfect combination in the City Class A Doubles league at the Meder alleys last night.

The former came through with a 632 total and Robertson was only four pins below his partner as they compiled a high 1260 total from games of 427, 449 and 384.

They won two games from Dale Cleckner and Neil Swank who plastered the wood for a 1239. Featuring a middle game of 266 in which he and his partner piled up a 509, Cleckner shot a 644. Swank had a 243 in the second tilt.

Sonny Meder led the individual scoring last night with a husky 655, which he opened with a snappy 268. Meder and his partner, Art Shepherd, who rolled a 601, accounted for a second high 1256 count and a pair of victories over Carl Heilman and Duke Weber. Heilman shot a 639.

A 1208 was put together by Fred McKinley, who felled 639 sticks, and Cecil Burdett, and they swept their match with Mike Meder and Jack Applan.

In the other match, Winnie Cleckner and Joe Cheney won two games from Funston and Young.

Black Panther Added to Card

Meets Bill Christy in First Match Friday.

Bill Christy, veteran light-heavyweight from California, will meet the Black Panther, highly-touted colored boy from Vicksburg, Miss., in the opening match of Friday's wrestling card in the Armory. The bout completes arrangements for the second professional mat offering of the season.

Christy has appeared in this vicinity before. A little past his peak, he is still considered an able student of the game and has consequently been dubbed a "trial horse." He will fill this role to perfection on Friday, for mat critics will measure the ability of the Panther in comparison with ringwise Christy.

Nominal feature of Friday's fare will be the two-fall contest between The Great Mephisto and Whitey Wahlberg of Duluth, Minn. These contenders of the light-heavyweight division will share honors with the bout scheduling Silent Rattan of Indianapolis and Sammy Vangler of Wheeling, W. Va.

Hostilities will start at 8:30, with popular prices in vogue.

BOB FELLER 'BENCHED' BY DES MOINES JUDGE

DES MOINES, Ia.—(UP)—Bob Feller, young pitching star for the Cleveland Indians, may lose his driver's license for three months as a result of his conviction on a charge of reckless driving.

Municipal Judge C. S. Cooter fined Feller $100 and recommended suspension of driving privileges yesterday when he found him guilty of driving 87 miles an hour. Feller said he had been driving only 70 miles an hour.

Western Conference Debates Proposed Rose Bowl Tie-up

CHICAGO—(AP)—Western conference football coaches and directors of athletics, in session here today, considered a proposal to confine the annual Rose Bowl game to teams from the Pacific Coast and Big Ten conferences.

Where the idea originated, nobody seemed to know, but it was favorably regarded by authorities of both conferences. If the faculty committee of the Western conference approves such an arrangement, the championship team of the Big Ten annually would be designated to play the team chosen by the Pacific Coast conference. Thus the difficulties and jealousies arising from the present method of choosing the team to go to the Pacific coast would in a large manner be eliminated.

Most of the athletic directors were reported to be favorable to such an agreement and so are some of the faculty members but it must be approved by the faculty men at their meeting tomorrow night. Noble Kizer, director of athletics at Purdue university, suggests that the Rose Bowl game be advanced to no later than Dec. 1 so that the Western conference team would not be obliged to practice in possible mid-winter weather and then go to the coast to play in mid-summer temperatures.

NAVAL ACADEMY COACH THROUGH WITH FOOTBALL

ANNAPOLIS, Md.—(UP)—Naval academy officials were reluctant to discuss rumors today that a civilian would succeed Lieut. Harry (Hank) Hardwick who is "not interested" in another season as Middie football coach. "Under no circumstances will I continue coaching football next year," Hardwick said. "Before this past season began I informed my athletic department officials, that I desired to discontinue coaching."

ACCEPTANCE OF BID UP TO GAEL COACH, PLAYERS

MARAGA, Cal.—(INS)—Whether St. Mary's Galloping Gaels will play Texas Tech in the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas Jan. 2 is entirely up to Coach Slip Madigan and the players, the board of athletic control announced today.

No official invitation has been extended the Gaels but two telephone calls, one from Lubbock, home of the Red Raiders, and one from Dallas, site of the game, were put in for Madigan yesterday. At the time he was motoring to Los Angeles, but he is expected to get in touch with Texas today.

ARSENAULT HONORED

TOLEDO—(INS)—Edie Arsenault of John Carroll university, was voted the season's outstanding Ohio college football player in a poll of sports writers, conducted by the "Downtown Coaches" of Toledo. Merritt W. Green, president, announced today.

OUTPOINTS MONTANA

OAKLAND Calif.—Little Dado 111, Philippines, outpointed Small Montana, 109, Philippines, (10). (California recognition as flyweight world champion).

Yuncker Sports Sign High-Scoring Forward

The 1936-37 individual scoring champion of the Central Ohio basketball league will make his debut in the City Class A league Monday night when he performs with the defending championship Yuncker Sport club on the Senior high court.

He is LaVerne Gray, erstwhile Coshocton high star, who will be at a forward post when Jimmy Breres' Sports clash with the dangerous Herrick Hi-Speeds at 7:30 in the opening game of the league's inaugural program.

Gray copped the title in a league that included Bobby Mercer, great Newark high scoring ace, who last season led his club to the state championship.

His running mate will be Al Stickler, a dangerous scorer and one of the mainstays of last season's great team.

The Sports will be without the services of Tom Farrell and Jack Miner, City league veterans, who are with the Elks, but the team stacks up favorable with the balance of the circuit.

Replacing Farrell at center will be lanky Johnny Reece, Lexington high school coach and former Ohio State player.

Breres will have Fred Lewis, Harold Hayfer and Glen Irey, three capable ball handlers to hold down the guard posts. Lewis can also be pressed into service at a forward berth.

John Schuster and Joe Atton round out the Sports' roster. Both have seen considerable service in City league competition and will give Breres strong reserve strength.

League officials and team managers, at a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last night, selected John Burnison, Galion high school coach, to officiate at all league contests.

The league officially announced the first round schedule for the year. The circuit this season will play three rounds, with the champions of each round meeting in a playoff for the City league crown.

The schedule follows:

Dec. 5.
7:30 p. m.—Hi-Speeds vs. Yunckers.
8:30 p. m.—Westinghouse vs. Elks lodge.

Dec. 12.
7:30 p. m.—Elks lodge vs. Yunckers.
8:30 p. m.—Westinghouse vs. Hi-Speeds.

Dec. 19.
7:30 p. m.—Hi-Speeds vs. Elks lodge.
8:30 p. m.—Yunckers vs. Westinghouse.

Friendly House Basketeers Open Season Tonight

Play will get under way in the Friendly House Class A basketball league at 6:30 p. m. today. The first game will pit the Blue Goose Sohioans against Miller's Dairys, with Augustine's Servicemen meeting the Raemelton Farm entry in the middle tilt.

The Rex Billiards, who won the championship last season, will shove off against Musille's Cigars in the final and feature game on the opening card.

Church Loops Set for Play

Class A Circuit to Open Wednesday Night.

The Church Class A basketball league will get underway Wednesday evening with all eight of the teams seeing action on the first night.

The A league will be made up of teams representing St. John's Episcopal, First Baptist, Central M. E., Mayflower, First M. E., Temple Emanuel and the defending champions, the First Lutheran team.

The games will open at 6:45 and play each hour with the even hour set as the deadline for game time. It was decided at a meeting last night at the Y that the B league would not open until Tuesday, Dec. 13. The change in date was necessary due to the High School football banquet.

Nine teams will vie for the B league championship with the Championship First Baptist team heading the list. St. Johns, Christian, Central M. E., Presbyterian, Mayflower, South Main Evangelical, First M. E., First Christion and the First Lutheran team.

The Church C league will open Saturday afternoon Dec. 10 with seven teams scheduled to play in the league.

Episcopal, St. Johns, Baptist, South Main Evangelical, First M. E., Boy Rangers and the Presbyterian teams are entered in this league. The First Lutheran team, last year's champions will not defend their title due to the age limit set on the league.

All three league will use a split season with the champions of the first and second rounds playing for the championship at the end of the season.

AL REID WINS

NEW YORK — Al Reid, 128, New York, outpointed Joe Fontana, 130, New York, (8).

Cage Followers Promised Tight Race In County

Games Friday Will Give Fans Idea as to Which Teams to Watch This Season.

RICHLAND county league followers should be offered a pretty good idea Friday night as to the identity of the schools which will bear watching in this season's campaign.

Butler Dangerous.

On paper, Butler, which has a new coach this year in Bob Burgett, looms strong. So does Madison, which is blessed with a wealth of experienced material.

But it is too early to count Ontario, Union, Lucas, Lexington and Bellville out of the race.

Coach Orville Kibler has a group of promising under-classmen which should develop into a strong club before the close of the season. Union also is coming up with a green but promising club.

Lucas figures as the "dark horse." Although handicapped by the lack of a floor, Lucas has held its own well in county competition, and should be tough again this season as it has lost only one man by graduation.

Royd Hodge and Johnny Reese, who coach at Bellville and Lexington, also will probably have something to say about the championship. Reese lost a number of men, but has found promising replacements.

This season marks Bellville's second in basketball, and the experience Hodge's club gained last year should be put to good use.

Three Games Billed.

Three league games are on schedule Friday night. Madison plays at Union, Lucas at Ontario and Lexington at Butler. The Rams also play Saturday at Loudonville in a non-league tussle.

The county's representatives in the other leagues will also be in action this week. Plymouth is host to North Fairfield tonight and Adario plays at Shiloh Friday.

10-B's WIN, 28 TO 9

Burkholder tallied 11 points to lead 10-B to a 28 to 9 victory over 10-A in a Senior high school intramural basketball league game yesterday. The winners held a 11 to 2 lead at the half.

BANTAMS MEET TONIGHT

All members of the Adams Bantamweight football teams are requested to attend an important meeting at Prospect park at 7 p. m. today, Alexander Hamilton, business manager, announced.

Sutherland Reported In Line for New Job.

LOS ANGELES —(INS)— Due to arrive here almost any day, Jock Sutherland today was reported as the probable successor to Bill Spaulding as head football coach at the University of California at Los Angeles.

It was learned that the University of Pittsburgh grid mentor has planned to come to Los Angeles and will visit Dr. Z. T. Malaby of Pasadena, a member of the Pasadena Tournament of Roses association.

Simpson Opens Season Friday

Bulldogs Play Shiloh Club Away in Opener.

John Simpson junior high school's Bulldogs are pulling on their leashes.

A couple of weeks of conditioning work under Coach Bob DeHaven has the Simpson candidates in good shape, and Friday night they hope to inaugurate their season with a victory at Shiloh where they meet the reserve team in a preliminary to the Shiloh-Adario tussle.

DeHaven has only two lettermen in Jack Shiplet and Harry Phillips, but the squad promises to emulate the successes of their predecessors.

The Simpson coach expects to build a strong aggregation around Shipley and Phillips from the candidates which include Bob Winbigler, Kenny Krupp, Albert Hager, Joe Romano, Russ Wentz, Leroy Sheeks, Orland Hoover, Earl Packer and Bob Bobst.

The schedule is not complete. Included on the schedule to date are games with Loudonville, Wooster, Willard and Shelby.

Schedules for two other Simpson quintets are being arranged by DeHaven. He is grooming another 9th grade team and a 7th and 8th grade club. Simpson had a team in a Bi-County grade school league last season, but it was not re-organized this year, DeHaven said.

Big Ten Places Only One Man On U-P Eleven

Heikkinen of Michigan Placed at Guard Post on All-America Selected by News Service.

By HARRY FERGUSON
(Copyright 1938 By United Press)

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—The United Press presents its 1938 All-America football team—the best players in their positions chosen out of the thousands who have made this season one of the greatest in the history of the college sport

Two great teams—Texas Christian and Pittsburgh—placed two men each on the first team. Other schools represented on the first team were Notre Dame, Michigan, Tennessee, Santa Clara, Villanova, Duke and Mississippi.

Under the United Press point system, a perfect score would be 360.

The players with their qualifications and the number of points they received:

A Crashing End.

Ends—Daddio, Pittsburgh, 217 points. He is a crashing end on a crashing team that experts consider one of the best in the country despite two defeats. Wysocki, Villanova, 189 points. An end on last year's United Press All-America, he was bothered by injuries in some of this season's games, but he remained a cat-like, smart player who crowded opposing kickers all the time and specialized in blocking punts.

Tackles—Beinor, Notre Dame, 268 points. Everybody who voted for Beinor at all placed him on the first team except three men. Wolff, Santa Clara, 187 points. Standing six feet, two inches tall and weighing 220 pounds, he is completing three years of outstanding football on the Pacific Coast where football is tough.

Guards—Heikkinen, Michigan, 226 points. He dominated the voting for guard on ballots from east, west, south and north. He has a trick on defense of jamming the opposition line and making a hole for a teammate to go through and get the ball carrier. Motion pictures of the Ohio State-Michigan game show Heikkinen jamming opposing linesmen back from one to three yards on almost every play. He is so good that four professional teams have approached him, but he wants to study law. Suffridge, Tennessee, 140 points. To him goes the unusual distinction of being an All-America player in his sophomore year.

U-P All-America

| Position. | Player. | School. |
|---|---|---|
| End | Louis Daddio | Pittsburgh |
| Tackle | Joseph Beinor | N. Dame |
| Guard | R. Heikkinen | Michigan |
| Center | Charles Aldrich | T. C. U. |
| Guard | Bob L. Suffridge | Tenn |
| Tackle | Alvin Wolff | Santa Clara |
| End | John Wysocki | Villanova |
| Quarter | David O'Brien | T. C. U. |
| Halfback | Eric Tipton | Duke |
| Halfback | Parker Hall | Mississippi |
| Fullback | Marshall Goldberg | Pitt |

SECOND TEAM

Wyatt, Tennessee end; Maronic, North Carolina, tackle; Smith, Southern California, guard; Hill, Duke, center; McGoldrick, Notre Dame, guard; Voigts, Northwestern, tackle; Holland, Cornell, end; Lansdell, Southern California, quarter; Cafego, Tennessee, halfback; MacLeod, Dartmouth, halfback; Weiss, Wisconsin, fullback.

Center—Aldrich, Texas Christian, 331 points. The voting never was close in the race for center. Aldrich took the lead over Dan Hill, Duke's sensational player, from the first ballot and the final count was Aldrich, 331; Hill, 150.

Quarterback — O'Brien, Texas Christian, 350 points—only 10 short of perfect A wild Irishman, weighing only 152 pounds, he probably is the nation's outstanding football player.

Averaged Nine Yards

Halfbacks — Hall, Mississippi, 191 points. The cold facts on this giant who stands six feet, one inch and weighs 203 pounds are almost unbelievable. Throughout a hard season he was good for an average of 9.6 yards every time he handled the ball. Tipton, Duke, 151 points. Probably the greatest punter since Harry Kipke

Fullback—Goldberg, Pittsburgh, 260 points. He was shifted to fullback on the Pittsburgh team this year to get the benefit of his great blocking ability.

CLEVELAND NOT LIKELY TO GET KANSAS GAME

COLUMBUS — (U.P.)—Ohio State university athletic officials doubted today whether the university board would consider transfer of the 1940 Kansas-Ohio State football game to Cleveland's municipal stadium as proposed by Herbert Buckman, stadium commissioner.

L. W. St. John, director of athletics, said he did not believe the board would "seriously" deliberate the proposition. Buckman said he had written the university, seeking the game for Cleveland. It is scheduled for Oct. 5, 1940.

SELECT ISSUES EDGE FORWARD IN MIXED MART

Tax Selling, Profit Taking on Yesterday's Run-up Halt General Advance.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Selected stocks edged forward in today's market but many others were unable to make the grade.

Further tax selling and some profit taking on yesterday's run-up provided stumbling blocks for the market.

Better performers included Westinghouse, International Harvester, Glenn Martin, du Pont, Union Carbide, Southern Railway, Chesapeake & Ohio, Anaconda and North American.

Bonds were a shade improved. Commodities were slightly mixed. Foreign securities markets were quiet.

Market analysts gave more attention to domestic industrial happenings as tension over foreign affairs lessened following breaking of the French general strike.

Noted was the summary of the Engineering News-Record indicating construction awards for the current week would top the same 1937 period by 63 per cent.

Recovery proponents derived some comfort from stock exchange figures disclosing that the November decline in quoted prices was accompanied by a sizable drop in the number of shares traded.

COLUMBUS PRODUCE

California iceberg head lettuce sold lower than previous quotations as 5-dozen crates ranged from $4.50 to $5 and 6-dozen size $3.50 to $4, depending largely on quality. Locally grown hothouse leaf lettuce sold very slow. Potato prices continued strong. Dealers predict higher prices are inevitable, particularly on Maine and Idaho stock.

Receipts at the farmers' market were light and the only price fluctuation noted was a 10c advance on spinach.

No changes in prices of butter, eggs, dressed and live poultry.

G.O.P. LAWMAKERS CONFER TODAY

McCulloch Rumored Best Choice For House Speaker.

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Republican members of the house of representatives gathered in the capital today for the first general caucus during which organization was to be effected and leaders selected.

Rep. William McCulloch, redheaded Miami county attorney who was minority floor leader in the 92nd general assembly, was the odds-on favorite to bag the speaker's post. J. Harry McGregor, of Coshocton, seemed the likely choice for majority floor leader.

For important committee assignments, Floyd Mees, of Pomeroy, loomed as the likely choice to head the taxation committee; Ralph G. Marshall, of New Concord, the finance committee; and L. H. Myers, of Lima, the welfare committee.

TREE GOES ON RAMPAGE

PORTMADOC, North Wales—(U.P.)—A 57-foot fir tree crashed on a hillside above the mountain village of Nantgwyant, rolled 600 feet, crashed through a wall, shot over another, and smashed end-on through the kitchen and into the classroom of a school where children were at lessons. No one was injured.

DALADIER SPURS ECONOMIC PLAN

Premier, Victorious in Labor Battle, Calls Parliament for Early Session.

sures to take against labor, Socialist and Communist leaders.

Daladier's quick move to capitalize on the suppression of the strike was spurred on by Italy's public avowal of territorial demands on France.

Determined Campaign.

Italian deputies' yells of "Tunisia! Tunisa!" during a speech by Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano, with Premier Mussolini and the French ambassador looking on, were taken by French officials to mean France was facing a determined Fascist campaign for control of the North African protectorate.

It was known that some of Daladier's close advisers had counselled him to call Ambassador Andre Francois-Poncet back to Paris for a "vacation," as a sign of protest.

The premier's friends and the conservative right jubilantly announced the General Confederation of Labor, which ordered the unsuccessful general strike, was losing its boasted membership of 5,000,000.

Conservative leaders called Daladier's victory the end of Socialist, Communist and organized labor influence in France.

Sues Kansas City For Loss of His Luxurious Beard

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(INS)—Like Samson, Kirby McRill lost his strength when his beard was cut off—so he has filed suit against Kansas City for $161,000 damages.

For years, McRill was a familiar figure as he trudged through the downtown streets behind a box-laden wheel-barrow. His beard and long hair were flame-red, and he wore an incongruous outfit consisting, in part, of baseball pants and socks.

In 1936, he was arrested, convicted of maintaining a fire hazard—the accumulated boxes—and sent to the municipal farm where he was subjected to the hair-clippers.

He was also beaten there, he alleged, and this caused his health to decline. Moreover, he says, he lost a $50,000 movie contract when he lost his picturesque head of hair and beard.

ROBBERY FAILS

PARIS—(INS)—Three men and a woman are serving long jail sentences for their recent "perfect robbery" attempt to get 160,000 france (about $4,800) from the vaults of a small bank. The quartet figured that by robbing a bank which had just jailed one of its executives for theft, the incumbent would be blamed for the additional crime. An inquisitive gendarme spoiled the entire scheme, however.

THEATERS

Film lot chatter . . . Lionel Barrymore confounds the pessimists again by starting another picture in which he will be Nelson Eddy's father. Moreover, he won't have to do the part in a wheel chair. His cane will be sufficient . . . the Spencer Tracys aren't separating, but Spencer is stopping at a Beverly Hills hotel while work is being done at the family home simply to get his sleep . . . he's working now in a picture with Heddy Lamarr.

* * *

Exciting Plot.

For the movie-goer who seeks pure entertainment on the funny side, with a touch of melodrama, the new Jane Withers picture, "Always In Trouble," now showing at the Madison tops the list. It is a simple story of a wealthy family—which, purely by accident, is kidnaped aboard its own yacht, shipwrecked, and entangled with desperadoes. Joan Woodbury, Andrew Tombes and Eddie Collins are in the supporting cast.

* * *

Highly Dramatic.

The movie selection at the Ohio dramatizes the famous book, "The Citadel" by A. J. Cronin. Opening in the brab mining valley of Wales, the story is carried along to the fashionable and smart circles of London, tracing the career of Robert Donat as Andrew and his wife, Rosalind Russell, as Christine. Today and tomorrow are the final showings.

* * *

Gangster Movie.

"Gang Bullets" is the title of one of the feature films showing now at the Park. Another story of how a smart district attorney, acted by Charles Trowbridge, outwits a criminal by making him think he is playing along with him. Anne Nagel and Robert Kent lend the love interest. The other feature is "Hell's Angels" starring Ben Lyons and Jean Harlow.

* * *

Two New Ones.

Bruce Cabot and Virginia Grey have the main leads in "Bad Guy" which opens tomorrow at the New Ritz. Cabot plays the role of a trouble shooter who kills a man in a card game, is released from prison after his half-brother, Edward Norris gathers evidence in his behalf, violates parole, and finally dies a tragic death. The brother, Norris, who aids in Cabot's jail break, wins the girl. The second feature stars Tom Keene in "Old Louisiana," a story of the Louisiana purchase.

Oriental Thriller.

James Dunn, Ralph Morgan, Robert Barrat and Linda Gray are the stars of "Shadows Over Shanghai" which opens tomorrow at the Majestic. As an American newspaper photographer Dunn marries Miss Gray, who is a teacher in China, in order to help her escape from war-torn Shanghai. A plot of intrigue and mystery follows the nuptials, but the couple finally escape. Two horses, Rex and Sheik, are the stars of "King of the Sierras," the second feature.

HE CERTAINLY KEPT RIGHT AT HER HEELS—FOLLOWED HER EVER SINCE SHE LEFT HER HOUSE! UP TO SOMETHING, I'M SURE
THE MAN WHOM PAM THOUGHT WAS FOLLOWING HER SEEMS MUCH CONCERNED OVER A DISCOVERY HE HAS MADE!
HE'S STILL HANGING AROUND IN THIS LOBBY!—WATCHING THE ELEVATORS LIKE A HAWK—I'LL NOT LET HIM OUT OF MY SIGHT!
12-1

MOON-TIME COMES:—
WISH PAUL WAS BACK FROM COURT!—I'M ALMOST AFRAID TO GO OUT TO LUNCH! IF I SEE THAT MAN AGAIN, I—I—GOODNESS!—IT GIVES ME THE CREEPS TO THINK OF HIM RIGHT BEHIND ME!
THERE SHE COMES, OUT OF THE ELEVATOR—AND THAT FELLOW FALLS RIGHT IN BEHIND HER—AND I'LL STAY RIGHT WITH 'EM!
WELL! A REGULAR "PROCESSION"!

A man who advertised recently for a wife received 1,300 applications. The one he selectes will have her job cut out—to make him quit wondering what the other 1,299 were like.

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—Fearful Earful. By Harold Gray

THOSE BIG SHOTS—HOW CAN THEY KNOW ME? AND ANYWAY, SPOSIN' THEY DO, WHAT'S AN ORPHAN KID TO RICH GUYS LIKE THAT? BUT THAT ONE, AXEL, THEY CALLED HIM—HE DOES KNOW WHO I AM—12-1-38
AH—THIS CLOSET—AND THIS PARTITION—ONE LOOSE BOARD HERE—JUST LIKE A TELEPHONE, ONLY BETTER—
THERE IS NO MISTAKE—OUR SEARCH, IT IS ENDED—THAT IS THE RED-HEAD WE HAVE SOUGHT—NOW WE ARE READY—GOOD, AXEL—IF ONLY YOU ARE SURE?
SURE? HA! AXEL NEVER IS WRONG—
THANK YOU, MY FRIEND—BUT LET US SAY, RATHER, AXEL SELDOM IS WRONG—HOWEVER, THIS TIME I AM RIGHT—WE HAVE OUR QUARRY—
YES—WE HAVE HER LIKE A SITTING PARTRIDGE—
HA! AND WE ARE HUNTERS, NOT SILLY SPORTSMEN—

SWOC DIRECTOR LECTURES HERE

Golden to Discuss A. F. of L. and CIO Rift at Delano Lodge Hall Monday.

Clinton S. Golden, regional director of the Steel Workers Organizing Committee will deliver a public lecture at 8 p. m. Monday at Delano lodge hall on Bowman street.

Golden, former regional director for the National Labor Relations board, will discuss the present day labor problems that have caused the rift between the A. F. of L. and the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

The CIO leader has directed forums for industry and labor at several of the larger eastern colleges and has instructed a number of large associations on collective bargaining.

Following his appearance here Golden will go to New York City where he will conduct a round table discussion for Fortune magazine on government spending at which representatives of government, labor and business will participate.

Golden's appearance here is being sponsored by Delano lodge No. 169 of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, D. R. Fields, chairman of the educational committee, said.

Mansfielders Hurry to Offer Aid as Muster-Cheers Start Yule Work.

bers of Mansfield's younger married set, will head the ticket committee as co-chairmen, while Mrs. A. J. Zahniser will be in charge of the reservation of boxes.

Tickets will be sold by the same individuals and business concerns that have handled them in past years, and will go on sale Saturday.

The Christmas Ball, according to present plans, will be the biggest affair of its kind ever staged in Mansfield, with a floor show that will be a complete evening's entertainment in itself. (We're keeping plans for the show a secret until the last detail has been worked out.)

But best of all, despite the fact that the event will be one of those "bigger and better" affairs, the price of the tickets will be just what they have always been—75 cents per person.

There will be additional cost only for those who buy boxes as a place for their parties to gather and leave their wraps. The number of boxes, however, will be limited by the space available.

Headquarters for the Muster-Cheers will be in the Community Christmas office, 405 Farmers Bank building.

MUSTER-CHEER OFFICE

All telephone communications to the Three Muster-Cheers should be made at their office, 405 Farmers Bank Building, telephone Canal 3661. No application for baskets, either by telephone or in person, will be accepted at this office. A committee, working out of the Salvation Army hall, will compile this year's list of families who will receive baskets.

SAFE CRECKERS LOOT POSTOFFICE

Blow Open Safe In Ohio Town; Hunt Launched.

SALEM, O.—(INS)—Safe crackers blew the safe of the post office in Damascus, near here, early today and escaped with an undetermined amount of loot.

The robbery was discovered when H. O. Stanley, postmaster and proprietor of the store in which the post office is located, opened the store today. Stanley immediately notified federal authorities and Sheriff Ralph Elser of Mahoning county. Two persons living near the store, Miss Anna Haldeman and Alfred Robson, heard the blast when the safe was blown, but did not realize what was happening.

MRS. MENCHAN DIES IN SHELBY

Native of Germany, 79, Had Been Ill Only A Week.

SHELBY — Mrs. Amelia Elizabeth Menchan, 79, a native of Germany, died Wednesday night at her home here following an illness of one week.

Born March 29, 1859 in Berlin, Germany, Mrs. Menchan came to America when seven years old. She lived in Mansfield for a number of years, and later moved to Shelby where she spent the greater part of her life. She was a member of the Evangelical and Reformed church in Shelby.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Carl Stover of Mansfield; a sister, Mrs. Anna Molder of Shelby, and a granddaughter. The body was removed to the Dick and Dye funeral home pending funeral arrangements.

DRIVE GOES OVER

STEUBENVILLE—(AP)—A special committee named to complete the work when the Steubenville Community Fund drive closed 10 days ago $3,000 short of its $82,100 goal, reported today the fund was oversubscribed by $34.

FORD AIDS JEWS

Says Refugee Haven in U. S. Would Aid Business.

DETROIT — (AP) — Henry Ford, who has been accused by some critics of being anti-semitic, believes the admission under immigration quotas of Jews seeking a haven from Nazi persecution would give "a new impetus" to American business.

The automobile manufacturer, who was decorated by the German government on his 75th birthday last July 30, made the assertion in a statement last night after conferring in his Dearborn office with Rabbi Leo M. Franklin of Temple Beth El, Detroit.

Referring to the grand cross of the order of the German Eagle which Chancellor Adolf Hitler conferred on him, Ford said:

"My acceptance of a medal from the German peoples does not, as some people seem to think, involve any sympathy on my part with Nazism. Those who have known me for many years realize that anything that breeds hate is repulsive to me."

CRASH KILLS TRAINMAN

COLUMBUS — (AP) — George C. Longhenry, 46, who had been passenger agent for the Pennsylvania railroad at nearby Westerville for 25 years, was killed early today when an automobile he was driving crashed headon with a truck.

Confer Degree—The Temple degree will be conferred on two candidates at a meeting of Mansfield Commandery No. 21, Knights Templar, at 7:30 p. m. Friday at Masonic temple.

Council Gets Claim—A claim was on file today with city council for $31.55, submitted jointly by Mrs. R. M. Fisher, 36 Arthur avenue, and Mrs. A. H. Brown, 32 Arthur avenue, for the cleaning of a city sewer which had clogged recently on their properties.

Goes to Columbus—Mrs. I. W. Basinger, chairman of the parent education committee of the Mansfield council of Parents and Teachers, will go to Columbus tomorrow to attend the quarterly meeting of the board of managers of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. Basinger is chairman of the north central district, which includes Mansfield, and is a member of the board of managers.

SENDS SEALS

T. B. Association Distributes 400,000 in County.

The 1938 Christmas Health seals —400,000 of them — today had been distributed to all part of the county by the Richland County Tuberculosis association as it launched its annual campaign.

George H. Smith, chairman of the Mansfield drive, said that 280,000 of the seals had been mailed in the city and the balance of the county quota of $4,000 was being distributed throughout the county schools under the direction of Mrs. H. C. Brokaw of Shelby, general chairman of the campaign.

Funds from the annual seal sale are used entirely for investigating and locating new cases of tuberculosis in the county and should not be confused with the half-mill tuberculosis levy which will provide money to care for the patients after they are discovered, Smith said.

DIES AT AGE 83

Mrs. Clara Workman Stricken at Her Home in Loudonville.

LOUDONVILLE—Mrs. Clara B. Workman, 83, died at her home here Wednesday following a lingering illness. Born Dec. 23, 1854, at New Haven, Mrs. Workman had lived in Loudonville for the past 22 years. She was a member of the Baptist church.

Surviving are her husband, Jacob; a step-son, Bryant, and a brother, Paretllo of Canton. The body will remain at the Swank funeral home until 10 a. m. Saturday when services will be held at the Baptist church with Rev. F. A. Twining of Canton officiating. Burial will be in the Ankenytown cemetery.

State in 1937. He has been associated with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company since his graduation.

The Mansfield boy, who played a guard position on the Buckeye eleven for three straight years, was selected on Collier's All-America team by Grantland Rice in 1935, his junior year.

While in high school, Smith received N. C. O. conference recognition in his last two years. He was a member of the great 1931 squad, which is regarded as one of the strongest teams ever to represent Mansfield.

In addition to the talks, the program Tuesday will include sound motion pictures of football subjects.

Tickets for the banquet are now on sale at the business office of The News-Journal, Senior high school, Tawse pharmacy and Bates candy shop. The price of tickets is $1.55, tax included.

BANS SHIPMENTS

CHICAGO — (INS) — A railroad embargo on all livestock shipments to the union stockyards in Chicago today found both sides still adamant in the strike controversy that has tied up trading for ten days.

The order against shipments does not apply to animals sent direct to packers. It was directed against livestock in the open market from which the packers normally obtain most of their supplies.

Pictorial Review's Esther Kimmel praises Flavor Harmony Plan of eating!

Flavor Harmony with NICKLES' BUTTER-NUT BREAD

A. Why not try the Flavor Harmony Test during the next few meals? Start the test with a bite of bread;

B. NEXT you take a bite of meat, for instance. Then sit back and enjoy it to the fullest extent;

C. NOW, another bite of bread to enhance the flavor of the meat and get ready for the next food;

D. THEN you are ready to enjoy the sharp flavor of salad or the natural flavor of vegetables.

"The FLAVOR HARMONY PLAN is a basic principle in menu planning," says Esther Kimmel, one of America's leading authorities on Home Economics, featured monthly in Pictorial Review.

Every modern home maker will discover how NICKLES' BUTTER-NUT BREAD steps up the flavor of all foods. It makes meals more alluring . . . more exciting. NICKLES' BUTTER-NUT BREAD is baked from a choice blend of perfectly balanced ingredients. Thus, NICKLES' BUTTER-NUT BREAD has the balanced flavor that makes ALL foods taste better.

Make the FLAVOR HARMONY Test as demonstrated by Miss Kimmel. Prove to yourself that the balanced flavor of NICKLES' BUTTER-NUT BREAD does make all foods taste better.

RURAL SCHOOLS GET AUTHORITY TO SEEK LOANS

Robinson Distributes $50,000 In State Certifications Permitting Borrowing.

Madison township schools, with the largest enrollment of any rural district in the county, were authorized today to borrow $7,366 against anticipated allocations of state school funds as Boyd Robinson, county superintendent, distributed certifications totaling $50,945 to the 3 rural districts.

The second largest "paper" distribution went to the Bellville schools which will be permitted to borrow $6,791 in operating funds. The Butler village schools were third with $6,364.

Other Certifications.

Certifications to other districts included Lexington, $5,224; Springfield township, $5,153; Union rural, $4,244; Cass township, $3,970; Plymouth village, $3,387; Lucas, $2,942; Butler township, $2,612; Mifflin township, $1,111; Bloominggrove township, $983, and Washington township, $791.

The authorization to borrow replaced the last quarterly distribution of state funds to schools, because the state department of education lacked the money to distribute cash. It was believed that the majority of the county's rural school boards would have to borrow to operate during December.

BEFORE JURY

Suit Over Alleged Flooding of Property on Docket Friday.

A suit for $2,500 damages and an injunction involving the alleged flooding by surface water of a property at 35 West First street is scheduled to go before the county petit jury Friday morning in common pleas court.

The action was filed against Carl H. Stander, 475 Marion avenue, by John A. McCue, rear of 35 West First street. In his petition, McCue contends that his residence and lot were damaged by surface water from adjoining lots owned by Stander.

McCue charges that Stander graded the lots so as to change the flow of water, causing it to flood his lawn and the basement of his home.

Representing McCue will be Attys. John C. O'Donnell and R. J. Brown, while the counsel for Stander is Atty. George H. Blecker.

CUTS RESTORED

Norwalk Truck Line Puts Pay Levels Back.

NORWALK—(U.P.)—John Ernstpausen, proprietor of the Norwalk Truck Line, has announced that 150 salaried employes had been reimbursed for a 20 per cent pay reduction put into effect for January and February this year.

Pay of men working by the hour had not been cut, so they are not affected. The line employs more than 500 persons.

Ernstpausen said that the reduction was imposed last winter when business declined, under the condition that those affected would be reimbursed in event of a pick-up.

WAR OPERATION SCHEDULE SENT 10,000 PLANTS

Army Ordered to Complete Program for Speeding Up Nation's Industries.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON—The army was ordered today to complete immediately a gigantic plan for shifting the nation's industries into high gear overnight for production of munitions in event of war.

The plan, keystone of President Roosevelt's program of strengthening the nation's land, sea and air forces to meet the threat of European and Asiatic totalitarian powers, was revealed by Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson.

Johnson summoned to Washington more than 200 high army and navy officers for a two-day secret conference, and laid before them minute details of the new program of mobilizing industry for a wartime production.

10,000 Plants Chosen.

The war department's dynamic "business manager" disclosed that 10,000 industrial plants have already been selected "to which we have given definite war schedules of production." Twenty thousand plants were surveyed, he said.

"I am satisfied that the most important items required in our war procurement program have been allocated to facilities well able to produce them," he said.

But he warned that "a big job" still lies ahead, and charged the officers with the responsibility of completing immediate plans for mass production of simplified and standardized fighting implements of all types.

"It is our job to achieve for America the successful industrial mobilization of its resources for any emergency," Johnson told the officers. "It is our duty mercilessly to apply the battleaxe to any bottle-necks that threaten to retard war-time production of munitions."

Two of the "bottle-necks" which are retarding the defense program, he disclosed, are lack of completion of specifications and drawings of war implements for use by industry, and their simplification and standardization.

"There still are more than 25 per cent of our items, many of them vital to our cause, for which specifications and drawings have not yet been finished," Johnson said. "A job three-quarters done is far from complete. I therefore direct you to bring all of your specifications and drawings up to date with all possible dispatch."

YULE PROGRAM

P. T. A. Council Hears Talks and Musical Numbers.

A series of talks and musical numbers featured the annual Christmas program of the Mansfield Council of Parents and Teachers held last night at the Woodland school.

Included on the program was a talk on "Tuberculosis and Christmas Seals" by Dr. F. J. Heringhaus; a talk on "Children's Books for Christmas," by Miss Margaret Draper of the Public library; singing of Christmas carols led by Mrs. John Klinger, and a vocal solo by Margaret Jorgenson, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. S. K. Jorgenson.

A musical story game led by Mrs. Klinger, assisted at the piano by Miss Louise Krause, and a Christmas pantomime by Miss Ruth Dunham, Mrs. Russell Moore, Mrs. G. C. Young, Mrs. J. B. Weigal, and Mrs. Don Rudolph also were on the program. A demonstration of competitive athletics was given by Mrs. D. O. Meese.

The council voted to sponsor a musicale by A. L. Derr, director of vocal music in the public schools, and S. K. Jorgenson, director of orchestra music, in March. A report by Mrs. G. C. Young, membership chairman, showed that there are now 1,716 P. T. A. members in Mansfield.

The Christmas program was in charge of Mrs. K. E. Buhr and Mrs. C. C. McClure. Mrs. C. H. Bell was hostess for the evening.

End of a Boar Hunt in America

Here is the end of a boar hunt in Cherokee national forest, in North Carolina and Tennessee. The boars are of the Prussian strain, bad actors when cornered, as this one is here. The dogs, an individual breed, called plott hounds, sometimes are severely injured by the boar's nine-inch tusks. These dogs are holding the animal at bay until the hunters get up to finish it.

PAINTS DARK FUTURE FOR EUROPE AS RESULT OF GROWTH OF NAZIS

"The longer the shadow of the Nazis grows, the darker the mantle of ignorance over Europe will become."

That was the prediction of Dorothy Fuldheim, Cleveland traveller and lecturer, speaking before 300 Mansfield women in the Ohio theater this morning, under the auspices of the Mansfield Federation of Women.

The "dark hours" of Munich, she asserted did not constitute a mere political coup, she asserted.

"The dark hours of Munich," she said, "were the beginning of the end of Christianity. The beginning of a new religion sprung from that affair."

Introduced by Mrs. E. J. Gilbert, president of the federation, Mrs. Fuldheim spoke on "Man or Beast?" She will repeat her address at 8:15 p. m. today in the Central M. E. church at an open meeting, sponsored by the Brinkerhoff Parent-Teacher association.

Mrs. Fuldheim quoted at length from addresses by Joseph Goebbels, Nazi minister of propaganda and Field Marshal Herman Goering, emphasizing that they, like all Nazis, attempt to deify Hitler.

Contrary to the opinion of many commentators, speakers, and writers Mrs. Fuldheim does not believe that the Versailles treaty was in anyway responsible for the development of the Nazi party.

She said that although Germany was obliged to pay great indemnities, she borrowed the money to pay her debts from us, gave some of it to England, some to France, and built tennis courts and swimming pools with the rest.

"Germany didn't pay her war debts. We did," she said. Speaking of treaties, Mrs. Fuldheim charged her audience not to believe any Hitler promises.

"In the past every promise he has made he has failed to keep, why should he keep them in the future," she asked.

Explaining the Nazi Bund, to which every male German must belong, the speaker pointed out that it was a relationship, a comradeship, strictly for the men of the party. The result is the degradation of woman, making her position that of nothing more than for reproduction, she said.

Continuing her discussion of the substitution of a religion of force, might and paganism for Christianity, Mrs. Fuldheim asserted: "No nation can go beyond religion. The soul of Germany is dying."

Hitler, when he came to power, was backed by the industrialists, because they feared the power of the 100 Communists who held seats in the Reichstag, she said, but also said there is no fundamental difference between Fascism, Communism and Naziism.

In retort to the often-stated opinion that Germany would not be able to go to war because she could not finance a war, Mrs. Fulheim said that all the raw materials, foodstuffs and support that the Nazis will ever need will come from recently annexed Austria, and the newly-acquired Sudeten territory of Czechoslovakia and from the "terrified countries of Lapland, Sweden, Denmark and Finland, and from Nazi-controlled Greece."

KIDNAPED GIRL BELIEVED SLAIN

Maryland Convent Student Is Abducted as She Walks Along Highway.

ducted last night. The officers located tire tracks at the spot where Mary struggled with the two men. At the side of the road, state police found a perfectly-formed man's foot-print, which they believed is that of one of the kidnapers.

A plaster impression of the foot-print was made for use if suspects are located.

Governor Sends Help.

Johnson and eight other members of the state police were sent here by Gov. Harry Nice of Maryland.

No ransom demand had been received by her father, and authorities feared that it was not a kidnaping for ransom. The posse was searching Prince George's county where, in some secluded place, it expected to find the girl's body. If she were alive, they reasoned, she would have found her way home.

Mary's step-mother, Mrs. Margaret Brown, nearly prostrated by her daught's kidnaping appealed to the abductors by radio not to harm "my girl."

Although Lucy could not identify the suspects, they still were being held in Washington this morning. A third man, arrested about 3 a. m., also was held. It was believed that Lucy might make another attempt today to identify them.

Two men arrested in Washington last night were virtually cleared by the girl's 15-year-old sister who escaped being kidnaped too by fleeing. She was unable to identify them as the men who dragged her sister into a light-bodied truck and drove off in the direction of the capital.

Returning From School.

The girls were returning from Notre Dame academy in Washington shortly after 4 p. m. yesterday. A small delivery truck stopped beside them on the country road, Lucy said, and two men offered them a ride.

"We told them no," she told police. "We said we just had a little way to go and would rather walk."

The truck drove on a short way, and then turned and came back. Both men jumped out.

"They didn't say a word," she said. "I ran into some bushes near the road and kept running. I heard Mary screaming and looked back. Both men had grabbed her and were throwing her into the truck."

Lucy, near collapse when she reached home, could give only a general description of the men.

Mary is next to the eldest of six children in the Brown family which has lived on a farm near here for 15 years. Ordinarily Mrs. Brown sees the girls home each day.

ELKS' MEMORIAL SERVICE SUNDAY

Lodge To Conduct 53rd Annual Rites For Deceased Members.

The 53rd annual memorial service for deceased members of Mansfield lodge of Elks will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in the lodge rooms, B. B. Kuhn, secretary, announced today.

The service will be in memory of three members, Frederick W. Platt, J. M. Dirlam, and Tracy C. Styert, who died during the past year.

Arrangements for the service are in charge of John S. Jones, chairman, P. J. Kelly and Adam Brandt. The lodge officers headed by Marion D. Ward, jr., exalted ruler, will be in charge.

STARTS PEN SENTENCE

PORTSMOUTH—(U.P.)—Richard E. Evans, former clerk of courts, was to be taken to Ohio penitentiary today to begin serving a one to ten year sentence imposed by Common Pleas Judge B. F. Kimble. Evans had pleaded guilty to embezzlement of county funds.

OFFERS VIEW ON HEART DEATHS

Physician Says Longer Life Span Reason for Increase in Heart Fatalities.

A longer life span and its wearing effects on the human body is one of the reasons for the increasing number of deaths from heart disease, Dr. George I. Nelson, Columbus, said last night in a talk before 125 central Ohio physicians at the Mansfield-Leland hotel.

He was one of two speakers at the seventh session of the Ohio State Medical association's regional postgraduate lecture course.

"Deaths from heart disease seem to be increasing rapidly because man lives longer now and naturally places his heart under a greater strain," Dr. Nelson said. He advocated plenty of rest as the best treatment for heart ailments rather than too much medical care.

Dr. C. J. Shepard of Columbus, discussed treatment of skin infections, giving special attention to athlete's foot which, he said, has become one of the most prevalent skin diseases.

It can be cured more effectively by cleanliness and sterilization of footwear than by the use of so-called "sure cures" which have been placed on the market, he said.

The meeting was in charge of Dr. Charles G. Brown, Mansfield.

CHOSEN BY OHIO DENTAL SOCIETY

Dr. W. H. Wolford, Named Vice President, in Line for Presidency in 1941.

Dr. W. H. Wolford, Mansfield dentist, yesterday was elected vice president of the Ohio Dental society, placing him in line for the presidency of the organization in 1941.

Dr. Ernest N. Bach of Toledo was chosen president and Dr. Van B. Dalton, Cincinnati, president-elect for 1940, at closing sessions of the society's annual convention in Cleveland. The group selected Columbus for the 1939 convention.

Under the society's election plan, the vice president is moved up as president-elect and then to the presidency in a two-year period.

Dr. Wolford, who has been a member of the state society's judicial council for seven years, also was chosen one of the 12 delegates from Ohio to the convention of the American Dental association in Milwaukee, Wis., next June. He was a member of the state society's program committee this year. Dr. Wolford is past president of the Central Ohio Dental society.

The Cleveland convention, attended by 1,300 Ohio dentists, pledged co-operation with the American Dental association in promoting a national health program and endorsed a plan to provide free dental services for persons financially unable to obtain care.

Mansfielders attending the state convention with Dr. Wolford were Drs. J. H. Bristor, F. O. Eckstein, W. J. Acomb, and Carl Schmucker.

PLAN FOR DRIVE

Shelby Seal Sale Workers to Meet Monday Night.

SHELBY—The annual workers' conference for the Christmas Seal sale in Shelby will be held Monday evening at the First Presbyterian church, Mrs. H. C. Brokaw, Richland county sale chairman, announced today.

Shelby's drive will open Tuesday morning with a house to house canvass. Last year Shelby raised about $700. No quota has been announced for this year. About 75 Volunteer workers will participate in the sale campaign.

Wayne Carlton, chairman of the Shelby sale, will preside at the conference. Speakers will include county and city sale officers. Supplies and instructions will be given the workers by Mrs. Fred Rollin, workers' chairman, who will be assisted by a number of sub-chairmen to be named later this week.

SCOUT LEADERS DINE NEXT WEEK

State Conservation Official to Speak at Annual Party Sponsored by Kimmel.

A. W. Short of Columbus, chief of game managers of the state bureau of conservation, will be guest speaker at the annual scout "widows" party next Wednesday in the dining room at the Elks home, Floyd Dent, area scout executive, announced today.

Short addressed the group at last year's dinner, and was invited to speak again this year by C. I. Kimmel, Richland county game warden and an area scout commissioner.

The party is given each year by Kimmel for scoutmasters, assistants, commissioners and their wives in appreciation of the work completed in the area during the past year.

Others taking part in the program will be Ronald Boffenmyer, magician from Ashland; a reading by Mrs. J. R. Turner; numbers by the Pasheilich accordion band; selections by students from Smart's studio; comedy skits by Edward Arlin and Mortin Frankel, and Paul Smith and Harold Foss, and community singing led by Charles Conklin. Rev. Paul H. Saleste, pastor of St. John's Evangelical church, will give the invocation, and C. G. Hillier will be toastmaster.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES—By Mail: Richland and adjoining counties per year, $4.00; 6 months, $2.25; 3 months, $1.25, (in advance), elsewhere in Ohio per year, $6.00; in U. S. outside of Ohio, per year, $7.00. By Carrier, per week, 15c.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1938.

Time marches on—and within the next fifty years these will probably be referred to as "the good old days."

Golden rule for motorists: Be as careful of the fenders of other cars as you would have other drivers be of the fenders on your car.

All over the world armament factories are working at high speed to produce more implements of war—so that civilized people can live at peace.

Complete Stocks Await Early Buyers.

NONE too early to be doing Christmas shopping—not only "looking" but BUYING.

At least an occasional nice day is more dependable in early December than further along toward Christmas, and no pleasant day should be overlooked in getting a part of the holiday shopping cared for.

With Central park and streets of the business section in brightest of holiday attire, and with stores enlivened by the finest and most complete stocks of holiday and staple merchandise ever shown in Mansfield, the people of this city and vicinity have every incentive to shop early and to BUY IN MANSFIELD.

One distinct advantage of buying early, especially in gift items, is that stocks are more complete now than in the customary rush just before Christmas, and that some particular article which has attracted attention may not be available later in the size or style desired.

The satisfied feeling of having Christmas gifts all bought well in advance of the holiday justifies the determination and energy required to DO IT NOW!

Time for Economy Program.

WASTEFULNESS and incompetence in the management of public business is responsible to a great extent for excessive taxes.

Actually there should be no more public employes in any branch of government than are required to do the necessary work, with fair compensation.

In reality, however, jobs by the thousands have been "made" to take care of political party workers who, in many instances had shown themselves unable to make a living in a profession or private employment.

John W. Bricker, governor-elect, is quoted as having said that he can cut the number of Ohio office holders from 22,000 to 17,000 and not hurt the service a particle.

That such a thing CAN be done will not be doubted by persons familiar with the build-up of useless and incompetent office holders during the Davey administration—but whether it WILL be done remains to be seen.

It cannot be done without taking a firm stand against the appeals of political bosses and "deserving" party workers who really believe that public jobs should be distributed on the basis of partisan activity rather than ability and willingness to some particular kind of essential work.

For the past several years the wastefulness of Ohio administrative policies has been keyed to the wild extravagances of the federal administration and the thought has been to find new tax sources instead of to effect economies.

At the recent election a majority of Ohio voters showed in a decisive way that they want a complete change in state administrative policies and they are depending on newly elected officials to see that this is done.

Rearmament for Defense Only.

THERE is obvious need for the United States to enlarge its fighting power, strengthening the army and navy, providing a mobile coast defense and creating a big, modern air force. We need to do this to safeguard our homeland, our territorial possessions and the republics of this hemisphere that are not strong enough to defend themselves.

It is very important, however, in this undertaking, to avoid all appearance of aggressive intentions against any foreign country. The whole world should recognize that our armament is only for protection.

One of the ways to make this clear is, with all our preparedness, to use moderation. It would be as easy to over-do preparedness as to under-do it, thereby giving foreign militarists new pretext for their excessive war preparations.

Freight Cars Improved.

ANOTHER detail in the modernization of railroads now going on is the improvement of freight cars. They are being made simpler, stronger, lighter and yet probably more durable, as a result of using welded steel which is strong and non-rusting. On every car made by this new process there is a saving of four tons in weight.

This lightness in itself is important, amounting to about one-fifth of the weight of present-day box cars. It means less wear and tear on track and roadbed and a big increase in the number of freight cars that a locomotive can haul.

Such developments may do for freight transportation what the new, fast, streamlined passenger trains are already doing for human traffic. It is evident that railroading has entered a new era. The chief problem remaining, perhaps, is to lighten and streamline the financial structure of the roads.

Aspires to Be Safest City.

CLEVELAND is hoping to win the 1938 title of "Safest City In America." The mayor urges all citizens to do their part. "Everyone," he says, "is appointed on the emergency 'Committee of a Million' to make Cleveland's traffic safe in December."

The city has a hopeful start. It has already reduced traffic fatalities by nearly one half and traffic injuries to less than two thirds of last year's totals. Local accident insurance rates are dropping.

Other cities are after this same title, and some have done very well, so far. December will tell the final tale But title or no title, every city in the contest will gain added safety of life and limb for its own citizens, at least.

You may have already noticed that broadcasters are carefully avoiding mention of the fact that Mars is coming much nearer to the earth.

Business used to recover quickly in the days when there were not so many statisticians feeling its pulses all the time.

—By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—The state department always has been the aristocracy of government service—at least to those outside looking in—and this, coupled with the new emphasis now placed on Latin American relations, has brought on a fever of ambitious yearnings among young federalisti.

Exciting to the lads who want to do big things in the government is the unheralded but sensational rise of young Laurence Duggan. In five years this slender son of Harvard bounded from his first state department job to chief of the division of American republics — one of the top-rung places in the career service. And he is only 33.

Scores of promising college graduates are examined each year by the state department for the half-dozen openings in the career service and numbers of employes of other departments take after-hour training in foreign service schools hopeful that the lightning will strike them. (Imagine the thrill of being sent to Berlin as third secretary of legation or assigned to romantic Buenos Aires.)

* * *

Duggan Had Advantages.

DUGGAN had something of a flying start. He had a plentiful background of family scholarship to begin with. His father, Stephen Duggan, is professor of political science at the College of the City of New York, and director in a half-dozen scholarly and diplomatic societies, including the council on foreign relations of the league of nations association, and the Institute of International Education.

The institute sent young Duggan to South America in 1929 to expand its work there. He learned a lot, made a favorable impression, and within a year was chosen by the state department as research assistant in the Latin American division. His pay was $3,200 to begin with, quite a leap above most starting aspirants, who do well if the push above $2,000 at the kickoff.

Duggan worked at his job by day and studied at night, won the attention of Sumner Welles, Under Secretary of State, and tried to shed useless elements of a slightly shy disposition. By 1934 he was bringing home $4,600 a year. By Sept. 1, 1935, he drew $6,500 as assistant chief, and two months later he headed the division at $8,000 a year. He was only 30 then. Even yet, at 33, he is the youngest executive in the department.

* * *

Replaces Old Glow.

DUGGAN puts back a rosy glow that vanished for many an old timer in the department long ago. But regardless of what happens to its members the romance is evident from the outside. And you couldn't shoo the insiders outside for almost any job on earth. Recently one of the senior members hove in from out Java way with a gruesome story or two of the trials and tribulations of life astride the equator. But for every poison snake that scared the wife into hysterics there was a story of other experiences vibrant with oriental color. And the guy had 17 servants.

Duggan hasn't been out in the field yet to win his spurs in a foreign diplomatic post. That will come later. At present he is the specialist who will sit at the elbow of the secretary of state at the Pan American conference at Lima. He's in the big time, on diplomatic Broadway.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Sunday, Dec. 1, 1918.

Rev. W. R. Polhanus, pastor of Central M. E. church welcomed 66 new members, a record for the church.

Mr. and Mrs. John Miller of Cleveland, en route by automobile to Los Angeles, stopped to visit Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bellore. Mrs. Miller was the former Viola Wolfe of Mansfield.

Mrs. Charles Ackerman was taken to General hospital for an operation.

Harvey Sawhill, Theodore Bergstrom, Paul Watts, Wilbert Burrer, Virgil Kirkpatrick, Hale Sturges, jr., and Edward Dann, jr., attended Y. M. C. A. older boys' conference in Youngstown.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Friday, Dec. 1, 1933.

Allen Bond was elected president of Richland county alumni of Ohio State university.

Mrs. Alice McCleary went to Zanesville to spend winter with her daughter.

Mansfield banks mailed out $110,000 in Christmas club savings, and 120,000 Christmas seals were mailed out as seal campaign started, with Mrs. L. W. Olson as chairman.

Mrs. Ora Dysart was hostess to members of Ladies Bible class of Mayflower Congregational church.

First two home loans in Richland county, negotiated through HOLC were granted. County Recorder Norman Wolfe announced.

TODAY IN HISTORY

Clark Viewed As 1940 Contender

—By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Leaving out of consideration the possibility of a Rooseveltian third nomination, Senator Bennett Champ Clark of Missouri has been a good bit talked about all along as a 1940 Democratic presidential potentiality. While the New Dealers appeared to be dominant in Democracy's ranks, it didn't seem to me that Senator Clark's chance at his party's next national convention amounted to much; he's too conservative for that crowd. However, the outlook is entirely different now, in the light of the last election result. Today I think I'd bet on the Missourian as probably the strongest candidate for Democratic selection 18 or 20 months hence—still assuming that F. D. prefers not to run again.

But for one drawback, perhaps Secretary of State Cordell Hull would be a better pick. He's a great man. He's liberal enough to suit the New Dealers, yet moderate enough not to scare the conservatives. Unfortunately he's pretty old—nearly 70.

Garner Too Conservative.

Vice President John N. Garner, besides being as old as Hull, is altogether too conservative to satisfy anyone but the rather extreme reactionarties. November 8 proved that his party isn't nearly as radical as many folks imagined, but it isn't generally as far to the right as Garner is.

On the other hand, it has become evident that such individuals as Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, Agriculture Secretary Henry A. Wallace or Administrator Harry L. Hopkins are a mile too "ultra" in their liberalism for the major Democratic element.

Senator Clark's age is all right. He has nice ancestry. He's able and likable. He's a corking campaigner. Though a "yes but" man, he isn't as vehemently so as is Garner. His state is reasonably pivotal.

And his showing in the late primaries and on election day was wonderful. The administration didn't openly try to purge him for renomination, but all hands knew that it was chilly toward him. He won hands down. As for election, New Deal Democrats either were beaten or triumphed skimpily. Seevral anti-New Deal Democrats, besides Clark, were re-elected, but they were re-elected in constituencies where nomination is equivalent to election. Clark won with less than administration support and in a slightly doubtful state—and by a landslide.

It was a dandy record, which entitles that Ozark lawmaker to plenty of consideration in his party's 1940 convention.

He should outclass other conservative Democratic aspirants quite easily. He likewise should outclass New Deal Democratic aspirants, if the party has turned more or less anti-New Dealerish—which the election result hints at.

F. D.'s Personal Charm.

This isn't going so far as to say that he could outclass President Roosevelt. Democracy does, indeed, look like having swung away from the Roosevelt New Deal, but Roosevelt's personal appeal doubtless transcends New Dealerism. If F. D. makes, on his own account, a bid for a renomination I'd surmise that he'd get it, against Clark or anybody—not without a lot of ill feeling, but I think he'd get it.

However, conceding the Missourian's nomination—could he be elected?

Contests at the polls in 1932, 1934 and 1936 suggested that practically nothing is left of the G. O. P. in anything but a few burroughs.

It wasn't, after all, a very startling come-back that the Republicans staged this November. The Democrats still will have 262 votes in the next House of Representatives, to 170 Republicans and 3 miscellaneous.

The point is that the Democrats are split two ways. The Republicans are quite solid.

We have, then three groups. In congress, they're tolerably calculable, because they're everlastingly voting on one issue or another. But it's hard to guess on the home electorate.

Suppose Champ Clark's nominated.

The old-line Republicans will go to town Republicanly. He'll get the anti-New Deal Democrats. The New Dealers at least will be clammy—stay at home probably.

If it comes out that way it will be anybody's gamble.

Timely Editorial

Parcel Post Anniversary.

A quarter of a century ago, the public was anticipating the early inauguration of parcel post—an innovation which was severely criticized and opposed when first suggested, but which is now as much taken for granted as first class letter service. This is an interesting example of how the experiments of today become the commonplaces of the morrow as preparations go on to celebrate in January the silver anniversary of parcel post.

Parcel post has proved itself well worthwhile. It is a great convenience for the public, gives employment to many thousands of postal employes and has in every way justified the faith and vision of those who urged it on the federal government in the face of objectors who were convinced that it would never be practicable —Columbus Dispatch.

Role of Glands In Muscle Control.

—By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

OUR KNOWLEDGE of the functions of the ductless glands has been accumulated in various ways. The beginning of it was the observation that strange freaks of nature had a disease of one or the other of the glands. These observations were made on human beings. Then experimental extirpation of the glands in animals brought about changes that gave us valuable information. They showed us what happened when the secretion of the gland was removed. The opposite effect—what happened when the secretion of the gland was increased—was studied on animals and human beings by injection of the extracts of the glands.

Accidental Discovery.

In one instance we learned about the function of one set of these glands by accidental surgical removal. I refer to the parathyroids. These are four small glands just behind the thyroid gland in the neck. They are closely attached to it, and in the early days of thyroid surgery it occasionally happened that when the surgeon removed the thyroid he also removed the parathyroids.

When this occurred, a curious thing happened—a state called tetany, in which the control of the muscles is lost. First, fine tremors and then painful muscular cramps occur. Convulsive movements may supervene, and in untreated cases spasm of the larynx caused death.

It was also found that the amount of calcium in the body is greatly reduced—by a third or a half. Calcium salts are known to keep the tone of the muscles normal.

The parathyroid glands, then as these unforutnate accidents proved control the calcium nutrition of the body. Calcium can be given to a case of tetany with no benefit unless accompanied by the administration of parathyroid extract also.

Parathyroid extract is one of the most effective we have, but it is not needed very much because, although tetany does occur spontaneously (that is, without surgical accident) in children with rickets and nursing mothers, it is a rare disease.

The parathyroids also have something to do with growth and bone formation, a natural inference since bones need calcium in their growth.

The ductless glands work in teams—the secretion of one affects one or two others. But the parathyroids more than the others appear to operate alone and control only the one function of calcium usage.

Nearest to them in this respect is the secretion of the islet cells of the pancreas, which control carbohydrate nutrition. When they go wrong, diabetes results. It is true that the adrenals and the pituitary have some influence on them, but how much is debatable.

The extract of these cells—insulin—is also extremely effective. All these extracts are merely chemicals, several of which can be created in the chemical laboratory. They are possibly produced in nature outside the body.

"The Rains Came."

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

FOR many weeks the autumn fields were drab and parched. I noticed squared checks of soil in meadows and lowlands, bounded by large cracks several inches deep. The wheat fields looked dry and uneven above the hollows. The streams were low and in many places flowed beneath their beds of sand and rock.

Then, in early morning hours, a storm came up. A blinding flash of lightning filled my sleeping room like a burning flame and awoke me with a start. Deep, heavy thunder followed, so that the windows rattled. I could hardly believe my eyes or ears, yet the flashes played about the dark room and the thunder roared again, just as the rain dropped suddenly upon the metal roof.

I believe I never witnessed a thunder storm in mid-November as spontaneous and active as in July. I listened to the roaring wind and rain and felt a calm security in my bed—a just rest and comfort, in contrast with the traveler on the highway.

When the retarded dawn appeared, I saw in the hollows of the stubble field and lawn, gray patches of pools, upon which heavy drops of water splashed and bubbles floated.

The withered grass by fence and roadside was refreshed, and as I stepped across the matted turf, I heard the water soaking through the soil, and the imprisoned air rising from beneath in little bursts of spray. I smelled the fresh greenness of the stems bathed in the pools the showers had made—the fresh, wet wind over brown fields—and it was good.

The complaining patches of autumn grain, refreshed and thrifty now, looked like a fine green carpet hung against the hill. The dried up brook flowed, brimming full, across the meadow draw. I walked down the graveled slope by the barn, where little streams had washed the colored pebbles clean, and left a trail of smeary footprints in the mud.

The two long lanes, connecting our old gray farmhouse with the graveled motor roads, are impassable except on foot. We are shut in—the world shut out—by half a mile of mud. We know the contented loneliness of pioneers.

I'm Beating the Years.

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

THIS business of growing Old—I suppose it sneaks up on each of us in a different way.

Personally, I'd always laughed at my Sister Females' yelps of distress as they neared the Great Divide. Their terror over wrinkles and gray hairs. Their anguish as they saw Romance depart . . . Heard studied platitudes replacing reckless professions of love . . . realized they were becoming Nice Old Ladies instead of Glamor Gals.

What idiots they were, said I to myself. What did all such piffle matter? To heck with Calendars, Complexion Creams and Roving Romeos! You were as young as you wanted to be! Get on with your work, girl, and forget the fireworks.

So I got on with my work. Which, until I was 38, hadn't been so much. Then there'd come this thing we Americans call "Success." A column to write. Scads of space to fill each day, scores of letters to answer. Nice job, if you have the constitution of a tractor. I had! So, at 40, we were sitting pretty, my job 'n' I. Filling that space . . . Answering those letter . . . Day after day. Day after day. Day after day.

AND ALL THE TIME, FEELING PERFECTLY SURE THAT I HAD OUTSMARTED THIS THING CALLED "OLD AGE!"

Outsmart Old Age? Oh, yeah! Try 'n' do it!

I had tried. I had thought I had done it. And suddenly I discovered that, while I thought I was winning, I was being licked to a fare-ye-well! For I'd been sure that Growing Old meant losing your Girlish Dimples and your 24-inch waist. Not to mention that Marvelous Male! But it had never occurred to me that Old Age might creep up on me in quite another manner. A manner that had nothing to do with graying hairs and departing beaux . . . but just show itself in a reluctance—

TO DO OLD THINGS IN NEW WAYS!

NEW WAYS? Once they'd been my favorite dish. As an Innovator I had always held all records. And naturally, I had taken it for granted that I'd always be like that. But was I? How long was it since I had done SOMETHING NEW? Changed my methods, altered my equipment. To my dismay I realized that it must have been many a moon.

I'd been successful—hadn't I?—with the old methods. I'd gotten results—hadn't I?—with the old tools. Then why change? So I hadn't! For months I had gone on in the same old rut, never dreaming that thereby I was letting Old Age pin me to the mat!

And now when I tried to change . . . I who once had swirled so lightly from one program to another . . . FOUND MYSELF CAUGHT IN A VISE. A VISE OF OLD HABIT. OLD AGE HAD GOT ME IN THE ONE PLACE WHERE I LEAST EXPECTED OR FEARED. NOT IN GRAYING HAIRS OR STRAYING LOVERS . . BUT IN MY ABILITY TO KEEP CHANGING WITH THE TIMES!

So my pride certainly came a cropper! But it didn't stay cropped for long. Right then and there I invented a game which licked the calendar . . . a game I call—"BEATING THE YEARS." And how do I do it? By forcing myself to do things differently . . . to adopt new methods . . . to use new materials . . . to experiment with new tools.

Right now I've tackled something that is kicking me out of my rut so fast you can't see me for dust. I'M LEARNING TO USE A DICTATING MACHINE. You know, one of those talking machines. Just a recording cylinder and a thing you speak into. Not so easy after you've been measuring space and painting words with your own fingers for years.

BUT, OH BOY, THE JOY OF FEELING THAT YOU'RE GETTING CURRENT AGAIN! THAT YOU'RE LEAVING THE OLD RUT THAT WAS FAST DEEPENING INTO A GRAVE!

A recording cylinder and a thing you speak into — just a gadget. But I'd like to put one of those gadgets into every office where a head is growing gray and a heart is growing dry FROM LACK OF CHANGE. Just try'n stay SET with THAT li'l box giving you the dog eye!

(Copyright, 1938.)

Man About Manhattan

—By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Quotations:

"I fear I am an inveterate ham and shall never be the conscientious interpreter of Shakespeare that I should like to be."—John Gielgud.

"It is always pretty difficult to make out what the critics want of Hamlet, even when they express lucidly what views they have on the subject . . . One actor doesn't satisfy them because, though they agree he handles the role with sure intelligence, he neglects to sacrifice his intellectual conception of the role of some other actor's emotional conception. Another actor displeases them because he does the opposite. And still another gets their bad notices because he dovetails the two. As my old editorial partner used to say, no wonder Hamlet is crazy." —George Jean Nathan.

THE greatest and most successful of Chinatown's tong chieftains was Fung Jing Toy, better known as Little Pete. . . . He possessed many diamond rings, a dozen handsomely engraved watches, and half a score of gold and platinum match boxes set with diamonds and other precious stones. He changed his jewelry several times daily and never wore the same suit, though he owned 40, two days in succession." Herbert Asbury.

"I was once at a luncheon where the table napkins were double-sided yellow satin damask about twelve inches square, almost as thick as they were large, with the result that the butlers spent most of their time picking them up from the floor to which they fell like lead. The idea of wiping egg off one's mouth with satin is rather like scraping a flower pot with a lump of sugar —which I believe is the standard way of setting teeth on edge."—Mrs. Charles Laughton.

* * *

HE REACHED in, surrounded the pack (of cigarets) with his hand, slapped two fingers of his left hand on top of the pack (noisily and much harder than necessary) until two cigarets popped up. He extracted one and put it into his mouth. He scratched a match and held it to the cigaret and cocked his head far over to one side and took a deep inhale. Enough smoke to fill a bicycle tire came out of his mouth and he blew out the match. Whenever you see a man go through all this you are looking at a man who has plenty of time on his hands."—John O'Hara.

"If you study an animal carefully it will begin to look like someone you know. That is why pets should never be named until after you become thoroughly familiar with their personalities." —Duke Street.

"Ballet is neither Russian nor English nor Italian nor American nor anything—it is international. And the time will come when its appeal will be as widespread as the love for baseball, its appeal as general as the corner movie."—Catherine Littlefield.

DITCH INCLUDED IN WPA PROGRAM

Improvement to Cost East Mansfield Land Owners $420.

About 25 property holders in the East Mansfield area voted yesterday to include the Chronister ditch in the county-wide WPA ditch program at a cost of $420 to the owners of property adjoining the drainage ditch.

Cost of the improvement will be assessed against the land owners who will be benefited by it, County Engineer Howard C. Sword said.

The group turned down a proposal to lay a 48-inch sewer to replace the ditch at an estimated cost of $8,600 and deferred action on a proposal for a 24-inch auxiliary storm sewer costing $2,300. The ditch is slightly less than a mile long.

November Building In City Soars, Nears 1937 Record

VALUATIONS IN NOVEMBER GO TO $155,440

Automobile Sales Climb, Too; Double October Volume, Top November of '37.

New building valuations in Mansfield soared so sharply during November that construction for the year will probably exceed the 1937 total.

The November valuation, reported at the city building today, was $155,440, an increase of 50 per cent over October's $101,032, and was double the figure for September.

The November report was the second best for that month in 20 years, topping November of last year by 300 per cent, and being exceeded in a 20-year period only by November of 1936.

Total Passes Million.

The total for the first 11 months of the year stands at $1,047,547, as compared with a 12-month total of $1,117,179 for 1937. If December construction amounts to $70,000 the 1937 figure, which compares to the boom year of 1929, will have been topped.

Fifteen residence permits were obtained in November, city records disclosed, with a total valuation of $71,000. It brought to 123 the number of residence permits granted during the year, and increased their total valuation to $692,100. In 1937, 132 new homes were built, with a total valuation of $835,000.

A major addition to the plant of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company was responsible for more than half of the November valuation. The company listed the value of its addition at $80,000.

City Among U. S. Leaders.

Paul W Williams, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, pointed out that Mansfield building figures are better than those reported for many cities twice the size of Mansfield.

Citing U. S. department of labor figures as his authority, Williams said Mansfield had spent 25 per cent more on construction in the first 10 months of the year than Youngstown, a city of 170,000. Mansfield also spent more on new buildings than Reading and Erie, Pa.; Lincoln, Neb.; Grand Rapids, Mich., and Louisville, Ky., and nearly doubled the pace of Akron. All of these are cities of 100,000 or more population.

Meanwhile figures compiled today showed that the sale of new automotiles and trucks in Richland county in November forged ahead of the figures for the same month last year and set a new mark for 1938.

Norman P. Henry, deputy county clerk in charge of motor registrations, reported that automobile sales for November totaled 129 as compared with 85 in October and 129 in November last year.

Fifteen new trucks were sold in the county last month, more than double the six sold in October and four above the total sales for November last year.

Improving business conditions and the introduction of new models were given as the reasons for the exceptional increase in sales.

INDUSTRIALIST DIES

TORONTO — (Canadian Press) —D. B. Hanna, 80, well known industrialist and first president of the Canadian National Railways, died today after a heart attack.

HELP SKATERS

WILLARD—Work of grading a plot of ground at Woodland and Main streets to be flooded and used for ice skating began Wednesday morning. The project, sponsored by the Women's Federated clubs and the Rotary and Commercial clubs, will provide a place for skating within the corporation and will discourage young people from going to the B. & O. reservoir which is often unsafe due to the ever changing water level. The city is furnishing water and lights for the place.

3 FROM COUNTY ON STATE LIST

Richland Men in Line for Jobs With New Unemployment Compensation Board.

Three Richland county men were among those certified to the Unemployment Compensation commission today for the positions of branch managers which the commission must select before Jan. 1 when benefits payments are to start.

Those named in dispatches from Columbus were Bryan D. Styert, 222 Newman street; Paul Funk, R. D., Shelby; and M. K. Wells, whose address was listed as Columbus, but whose home is in this county.

Also named on the eligibility list from Ashland county were Robert L. Wilcox, Loudonville; John M. Imhoff, and W. E. Morris of Ashland; Crawford and Wyandot counties, E. F. Buck; Galion; E. W. Tracht, and E. C. Stump of Crestline; Huron county, George N. Reed, R. D., New London, and Waldo Schock and J. T. Hogsett, both of Norwalk.

The branch manager jobs will pay from $1,800 to $3,600 a year. More than 800 applicants received the average grade of 70 necessary to pass the written, oral and experience portions of the exams.

Only the names of three with the highest grades in each district were certified by the state civil service commission. Extra credits were allowed in some cases because of war-time service.

The commission already has leased a building at 50 North Diamond street for its district office.

REPRESENT HI-Y

15 Delegates to Attend Ohio Conference at Massillon.

Fifteen members and advisers of four Mansfield Hi-Y clubs will go to Massillon tomorrow to attend the 35th annual Ohio Hi-Y conference in session there at the Y. M. C. A.

All but the Fresliman club will be represented from Mansfield at the three-day meeting.

The main speaker of the conference will be Dr. Frank D. Slutz of Dayton, nationally known speaker, who has taken part in Hi-Y meetings throughout the country. Between 900 and 1,000 delegates from high schools throughout Ohio are expected to attend the conference.

the crossing. Bodies were strewn everywhere for a quarter of a mile down the track."

Parents Hunt Children.

The children were picked up by the bus at Bluffdale, Riverton, South Jordan, Crescent and Herriman, all small communities south of Salt Lake City.

Grief stricken parents, hysterical and weeping, rushed up and down the 85-car train, trying to find their children.

Some of the bodies were badly mangled.

The train was manned by Engineer E. L. Rohmer and Conductor J. P. Ryan, both of Salt Lake City, railroad officials said.

The train was northbound; the bus eastbound.

INJURIES FATAL

Clark Hyde of Ashland Dies After Traffic Mishap.

ASHLAND—Walking from between parked cars into the path of an automobile caused fatal injuries to Clark Hyde of West Main street Wednesday.

Mr. Hyde died at 2 p. m. Wednesday from a cerebral hemorrhage and internal injuries sustained Tuesday afternoon when he was hit by an automobile driven by B. H. Enzor of 338 East Third street. He also suffered compound fractures of both legs.

According to police, Mr. Hyde walked from between parked cars on Cleveland avenue in the path of the approaching car.

Funeral arrangements will be made when Mr. Hyde's sister, Frances Hyde Dorsey, arrives here from California.

DistricT BREVITIES

GALION — Thaler and Amick, local plumbing and heating firm, moved Wednesday from 111 North Columbus street to the new building at the rear of McManes' drug store on Harding way east. The new site is a cement block building recently completed by W. G. Line. The firm had been located on North Columbus street for the past 12 years.

GALION—Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Clark of Adrian, Mich., who were injured in an automobile accident near Kenton Sunday, were removed Wednesday to the home of Mrs. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Sickmiller of 131 Gill avenue, Galion. The Clarks had been patients at the Kenton hospital until Wednesday.

GALION — Announcement has been received here by Galion relatives of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. James Boyer of Lakewood, at Deaconess hospital, Lakewood, Wednesday noon. The mother was the former Ruth Nichols of Galion, and Mr. Boyer is also a former Galion resident.

RESENTS SNOW STORIES

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz.—(U.P.)—Free board and lodging awaits the travelers of Northern Arizona highways who become snowbound in this city during the winter—if there are any. The local chamber of commerce, hotel operators and restaurant owners, irritated by reports of snow-blocked highways, will be the hosts.

CHEAP FLIGHT

"Scooter" Plane Flies To N. Y. At Cost of $30.91.

NEW YORK — (U.P.) — John M. Jones estimated today that it had cost him $30.91 to fly non-stop from Los Angeles to New York in his "scooter" plane.

He landed at Roosevelt field yesterday, 30 hours and 37 minutes after leaving Los Angeles. He had flown 2,785 miles and set a new distance record for light planes.

HITS MEDDLING

Engineer Says U. S. Shouldn't Take Hand in Foreign Rows.

A discussion on the European situation with reference to the recent developments following the Munich pact was given by William J. Russell, managing engineer at the Westinghouse plant at a meeting of the C. H. Huston class of the Park Avenue Baptist church last night at the church.

"War hysteria is definitely planned largely by those who have personal interest in the promotion of war," Russell said. "America must not meddle in foreign affairs to the point of war. The preservation of democracy against the threat of Fascism, Naziism and Communism should be the supreme concern of Americans in a country which represents the lone survivor of this type of government in the world."

The business session was in charge of LaVerne Miller, president. A supper was served by a committee made up of Charles Swisher, Harry Lantz, and Rev. Hayes M. Braker.

The next meeting is scheduled for Dec. 28.

MORROW WOMAN STRICKEN AT 44

Mrs. Florence Newton, Ill Year, Dies Near Mt. Gilead.

MT. GILEAD — Mrs. Florence Flossie Newton, 44, a lifelong resident of this vicinity, died at her home in Franklin township today after an illness of a year.

She is survived by her husband, William; a son, Clarence, of Mansfield; a daughter, Mrs. Florence Roach, of Mt. Gilead; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hardin, of near Mt. Gilead; four sisters Mrs. Imo Claybull of Galion, Mrs. Hazel Sharp of Mansfield, Mrs. Mildred Lewis of Lexington and Mrs. Iva Hetrick of Mt. Gilead, and five brothers, Gilbert and Richard of Mansfield, Herbert and Clarence of Mt. Gilead and Grant of Galion.

Funeral services will be held at the Chesterville Methodist church at 2 p. m. Saturday with Rev. Henry Babbs officiating. Burial will be in the Chesterville cemetery.

HUNTERS BRING BACK 3 DEER

Three Mansfield hunters returned from a two-day deer hunting trip in Pennsylvania yesterday and each had the bag limit.

They were Melvin Marvicsin, 206 South Mulberry street; James Wheeler, 255 Park avenue east, and William Wampfler, 582 South Diamond street, all Westinghouse employes.

They bagged two does and one buck, all antlerless, in Lycoming county about 100 miles north of Harrisburg. Marvicsin said he and his campanions arrived on the hunting grounds early Monday but that the zero weather forced them indoors until Tuesday when all three got the bag limit within six hours.

The nominating committee was made up of Harry Frietchen, sr., Miss Elizabeth Warga and Mrs. Mary Morris.

ITALY AGREES

LONDON—(U.P.)—Italy will accede to the 1936 naval agreement signed by the United State, Great Britain and France, it was announced officially today.

The chief consequence of Italian adherence will be that Italy will now exchange information regarding naval building programs with France, Great Britain and the United States.

BUCYRUS CLUB TO HONOR HIGH SCHOOL ELEVEN

Players and Coaches to Be Guests at Venison Dinner Next Week.

BUCYRUS — Members of the Bucyrus High school football team will be honored at the annual Rotary football luncheon at the Elberson hotel next Tuesday, when a special program will be offered by gridiron officials of Ohio State university.

The players and their coaches will share in the venison offered by Neil Jersey, Rotary member, who shot the deer in northern Michigan last week during his annual hunting expedition.

CRAWFORD COURT NOTES

BUCYRUS—Probate court: The will of Emma M. Hull of Cleveland filed for probate here, bequeaths all property to her three children, J. Claude Hull of Bucyrus, Joyce E. May of Carrothers and Wade Hull of Cleveland, all to share equally. The sons were named executors.

Inventory and appraisement filed in the estates of Judson D. Kitchen and Josephine Kaple.

Schedule of claim filed againt the estate of Katherine Massong.

PUT UP YULE TREE

BUCYRUS—Through the courtesy of R. V. Sears, a 35-foot Christmas tree is being erected today on Washington square.

The tree was secured through the efforts of the "B" club and the Ohio Power company with city workmen will place the tree in the east park of Washington square.

Carol singing by local groups will be held about the tree later in the season.

CLEARINGS DOWN

Bank Transactions Decline $270,757 in November.

Failing to keep pace with the city's business gains as indicated by retail sales figures, Mansfield's bank clearings dropped off $270,757 in November from the preceding month, H. A. McElhaney, secretary of the Clearing House association, said today.

The November clearings of the city's four banks were $6,445,904 as compared with $7,320,585 in the same month last year. Clearings for October this year were $6,716,661.

Totals clearings for the year continued to lag far behind figures to the same time in 1937, with $67,805,565 handled to Dec. 1 this year and $94,447,394 to the same date in 1937.

High Heeled Shoes and Hard Floors Cause Headaches

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. —(INS)— One of the most serious errors in sleeping is to lie on the abdomen with the head turned to either side, according to Dr. James E. Slocum, of Des Moines, Ia., who addressed the Indiana Chiropractors' association convention here.

Sleeping on the left side or on a pillow is not harmful, he declared, but asserted that modern overstuffed furniture has done an incalculable amount of harm to the lower part of the back.

"Our ancestors wore moccasins, walked and did their work upon soft ground," he said. "As a consequence, they seldom suffered from headache. Now constant jarring and jolting force vertebrae out of position, set up tension and cause headaches."

NAMED CAPTAIN

GALION — Jim Ernst, Galion high school quarterback and all-N. C. O. league quarterback, was elected honorary captain of the Galion high school football team of 1939 Wednesday evening.

Ernst was elected by the football lettermen of Galion high school at a meeting held Wednesday after school with Coach Johnny Burnison.

FOUND WITH THROAT CUT

New C. of C. Aid

Robert M. Miller, above, whose appointment as assistant secretary of the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce was announced this week, is a graduate of Wooster college where he majored in political science and economics. He is a native of Sioux Falls, S. D. Miller will handle membership contact work and will conduct a number of surveys, including a tax study, to be undertaken by the C. of C. shortly, Paul W. Williams, secretary-manager, said.

STUDY PARKING PLAN TOMORROW

City Officials, C. of C. and Merchants to Make Delayed Trip to Zanesville.

A trip to Zanesville, planned last week by a group of Mansfield business men and city officials for the purpose of studying parking meters in use there, and called off because of the inclement weather will be made tomorrow.

Paul W. Williams, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce said that representatives of the C. of C. and Retail Merchants association which have endorsed the machines as well as council's special committee on parking meters will make the trip for the purpose of conducting a survey in Zanesville which has had the machines in use for the past six months.

Williams said that city officials, law enforcement officers, merchants and motorists will be interviewed to gain their reaction to the meter plan of parking.

The group will leave the Mansfield-Leland hotel at 8:30 a. m. Those making the trip, Williams said are Mayor Claude M. Hunter, Service-Safety Director Earl A. Nist, Councilman-at-large James E. Crum, head of council's special committee on meters, and representatives of the C. of C., Retail Merchants and the Junior Association of Commerce.

GALION EAGLES TO BE HOST TO AREA LODGES

Initiation to Be Held Friday at Lodge Hall; Plans for Yule Party Drawn.

GALION — Final arrangements were made Wednesday night at the regular meeting of Galion aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, for the district initiation which will be held here Friday night. Eleven new applications for membership were received last night and turned over to the campaign committee. There were 75 members present.

Leo Yochem, chairman of the entertainment committee, announced that arrangements have been completed for the children's Christmas party to be held Thursday, Dec. 8, for all children of parents who hold membership in the Eagles' lodge. Children from five to 13 years of age, inclusive, will be entertained.

Announcement was also made that the regular Saturday night dance will be held again this week for all members and their families.

GALION—The district Garden club school will be held here Friday, Dec. 2, at the Galion public library, at 1:30 p. m. Garden club members of Galion who are sponsoring the school under the auspices of Russell Miller, county agricultural agent, call attention to the fact that the school will be in the afternoon insead of the evening as was previously announced this week.

All citizens interested in the meeting are invited. The district includes all the clubs in eight counties including Richland, Huron, Ashland, Knox, Morrow, Marion, Holmes and Crawford.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Nobody Enjoys Meals More Than This Lexington Man

Now eats without suffering later from indigestion, gas, sourness, cramps, first time in years since Vendol relieved constipation. Highly recommends it.

MR. HARRY F. DAUGHERTY

Many of the most enthusiastic friends of Vendol are the men and women who haven't enjoyed their meals for years because they couldn't eat without later suffering all sorts of distress. This was the case of Mr. Harry F. Daugherty, living on route 2, Lexington, Ohio, a well known citizen who has spent his entire life in and around Mansfield, who, in a recent conversation with the Vendol Man in Central Drug Store, Cor. Main and Fourth Sts., praises Vendol as follows:

"Constipation seemed to exact a heavy price from me. For years I seemed unable to get thorough elimination without the use of laxatives and this condition caused all kinds of distress. My meals were just a joke. No matter how little I ate or how carefully I selected my food I seemed bound to suffer with Indigestion, gas, sourness, shortness of breath and doubling cramps after every meal. In addition, this constipated condition made me too nervous to get any sleep to amount to anything.

"Every morning I'd get up feeling tired, wornout and achy with no energy to do a thing. My head would ache me something awful, and such dizzy feelings would come over me that I would have to sit down to get my bearings.

"But there has been a decided change in me since I've been taking Vendol which gave the most satisfying relief from constipation. Why, right from almost the first dose, it had my bowels moving better than they had in years. Now, amazing as it seems, I'm eating 3 fine meals a day without so much as a hint of the old distress. Actually, I've never enjoyed meals more in my life. As if this alone weren't worth many times the price of Vendol, I find my nerves have calmed down, and I sleep like a child, and start the day feeling rested and refreshed. The headaches, dizzy spells, spots before my eyes are all gone, and I really feel like a different person.

"I want to add my praise for Vendol to all the others here in town, and I'm sure it will benefit everyone who suffers like I used to."

You can't go wrong in giving Vendol a chance to help you the same way. Its Roots, Herbs and Alkalines will make you FEEL better and LOOK better. Visit the Vendol Man at the Central Drug Store, Cor. Main and 4th Sts., and learn all about it. Most all druggists sell Vendol.

To Get the Best Cough Remedy, Mix It at Home

Real Relief. Big Saving So Easy. No Cooking.

This famous recipe is used by millions of housewives, because it makes such a dependable, effective remedy for coughs that start from colds. It's so easy to mix—a child could do it.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex, a compound containing Norway Pine and palatable guaiacol, in concentrated form, well-known for its effect on throat and bronchial membranes.

Then make a syrup by stirring two cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. It's no trouble at all, and takes but a moment. No cooking needed.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle and add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of very effective and quick-acting cough remedy, and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and is very pleasant—children love it.

You'll be amazed by the way it takes hold of coughs, giving you delightful relief. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

5 EMPLOYES OF CITY OVER 70 GIVEN NOTICE

Retire Dec. 31 or Apply for Year's Extension, State Board Tells Them.

Five city employes over 70 years of age must retire from active service Jan. 1 under the new public employes retirement system or file application for one year's extension, City Auditor Paul L. Kelley was notified today by Wilson E. Hoge, state secretary of the retirement board.

Kelley was informed that unless an application approved by him to continue in service is filed by the five men with the retirement office before Dec. 31, the payment of any salaries for services rendered after that date would be illegal.

4 In Waterworks Division.

Hoge wrote that application for retirement benefits under the system had been sent to four city waterworks employes and one garbage department employe.

He listed Theobold Schmitt, Alexander Schwab, John E Young and Alonzo Stoughton of the waterworks department and John E. Sonner in the garbage department as past the age limit.

Roy Antibus, assistant city engineer, who had been on leave of absence for the past year and who recently made application to the retirement board for superannuation, also was named.

Hoge enclosed a supply of applications for the continuation in service of employes over 70, pointing out that the law definitely provided that Kelley as auditor must approve the application for the employe over that age to continue in service for another year.

Beginning in 1940 all city and state employes over 70 will be retired automatically

BROMFIELD TO AID RESCUE OF JEW REFUGEES

Novelist Goes East Tomorrow to Join Committee; Blasts at British Politicians.

Louis Bromfield, Mansfield-born novelist, will take time out Friday in his search for a farm near Mansfield to go to New York and Washington to aid in rescuing Jewish refugees from Germany.

Bromfield, who is chairman of a committee helping to get wounded members of the International Brigades in the Spanish loyalist army out of Spain, will go east to join a committee aiding the Jewish refugees.

He was in Cleveland Tuesday and in an interview with a Cleveland Press resporter, Bromfield said: "I found that British and some French politicians in Hitler's pay were stopping these foreign wounded volunteers (Loyalists) at the French border at Franco's request, so that Franco could say that they were still in Spain and keep German and Italian troops in his army."

Bromfield, who recently arrived in Oberlin after a 15-year stay in Europe, asserted that there is "only one honest man in British politics with any influence and that is Sir John Anderson, a Scotsman, governor of India."

He straightened out the mess which Lord Halifax, then Lord Irwin, made in that office, the novelist asserted.

Scores Munich Pact.

Bromfield labeled the "so-called Peace of Munich," by which Hitler and Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain arranged the dismemberment of Czechoslovakia, as "the most phony peace in history."

"But that is nothing new in the history of Chamberlain and his associates," Bromfield added. "It is simply the latest episode in a long black record. Chamberlain and Sir John Simon, and Halifax and all the rest are traitors to democracy and to the British peopleliars, pious hypocrites and politicians so crooked that their Tory 'machine' makes Tammany at its worst look like a reform organization."

"In general, France has weathered the recent troubles all right, and even if a dictator should arise, France is so passionately democratic that no dictator could last long," he asserted.

Looks Over 50 Farms.

Bromfield has visited Mansfield several times recently in his search for a 200-acre farm near the city as a home for his family. He has looked at 50 farms already, he said, and has about 50 more to look at. He is residing temporarily in Oberlin.

The novelist still maintains five acres and a chateau 30 miles north of Paris, where he has developed one of the most famous flower and vegetable gardens in France. His chief luck has been in hybridizing delphiniums and dahlias, and growing American vegetables new to France—Ohio sweet corn, pumpkins, lima beans and Hubbard squash.

Bromfield attended Cornell agricultural school for a year before attending Pulitzer School of Journalism at Columbia University and then going into the publishing business and becoming a writer.

"Though two of my daughters were born in France, they are as passionately American as I," he said. "They want, and I want them, to attend American public schools—especially those in Mansfield, from which I was graduated."

TALKS ON SPANISH WAR

COLUMBUS—(AP)—Louis Bromfield, the author, believes that a victory in Spain by the forces of General Franco would "mean nothing at all."

"If Franco were to win the war tomorrow," he told a meeting here last night, "it would soon begin again. The war in Spain is a war against tyranny and Fascism, one of the most disgusting political manifestations in history."

Bromfield, a native of Mansfield, O., who returned to this country recently with his family after living for years in France, is chairman of the Paris committee in charge of the evacuation of American members of the Spanish Loyalist forces' International brigade.

Book of the Week

"BEHIND THE BALLOTS," by James A. Farley (Harcourt, Brace: $3).

* * *

WHEN Jim Farley's "Behind the Ballots" came along this department shivered and said under its breath "here's a book we've got to do something about, most certainly." And grimly we went to it.

The remarkable thing is that what looked like a thundering bore at the outset became shortly an experience of real interest. The book is not what you'd think—it is not a bucket of whitewash either for Farley or for national politics in general. On the contrary, it really tells how men and issues are manipulated, how delegates are snared, how deals are made, how feuds are begun and ended.

We're not so naive as to suppose that Farley has told everything. There are spots where it seems obvious that a few words were spoken behind a palm which are not in the record. And a great many things would have to be ignored in a book of this sort however frank, because of libel laws and because of their bearing on other people's affairs. But it seems likely that Farley has told what he has told straight from the shoulder, and that means he has written a unique book.

The two most interesting sections, for this reader, are the first pages, which describe Farley's entrance into politics, and the section which tells of the extraordinarily subtle way in which Franklin D. Roosevelt was brought into the 1932 campaign, and ushered vigorously into the White House. Particularly the section first mentioned.

Farley was an Irish Catholic boy living in a little village a few miles north of New York City. He was so dazzled by politics that he actually served as town clerk several years while commuting daily to New York — and during this whole period he cancelled his fees as clerk in return for good will. Calvin Coolidge followed much the same plan, William Allen White shows in "A Puritan in Babylon."

In addition, Farley learned early that to make an ally you [illegible] make a participant; people [illegible] think they are in the know. That was the urge behind the barrage of letters Farley has laid down. The air is always white with Farley letters—no wonder he was given the post office department.—By J. S.

Philadelphian, 20, Shoots Three Jaguars In Brazil.

PHILADELPHIA — (INS) — Despite the fact she never before had handled a rifle or revolver, Edith Bray, 20-year-old Philadelphia girl, recently shot three jaguars on a four-months hunting trip in Brazil.

Miss Bray was one of two young women who accompanied Sasha Siemel, noted game hunter, on his trip into the Matto Grosso, savage South American jungle. The young adventuress practiced shooting a rifle on shipboard enroute to the hunting country.

GET JUDGMENTS

Plaintiffs Awarded $1,000 and $100 in 2 Damage Suits.

Judgments for $1,000 and $100 had been awarded today in common pleas court in separate damage suits resulting from automobile accidents in the Mansfield area.

Mrs. Rosemary C. Cushing, R. D. 3, Mansfield, was awarded the $1,000 judgment in her action for $3,000 against John Parsons, Ironton, O., trucker, when Parsons failed to appear for trial of the case.

Mrs. Cushing, a minor, filed the suit through her husband, George Cushing. She contended she suffered injuries when the car in which she was riding struck a parked truck, owned by Parsons, at Park avenue east and Hedges street last December.

In the other hearing before Judge C. H. Huston, Mrs. Mary Brown, wife of R. J. Brown, Mansfield attorney, won a $100 judgment in her $1,550 suit against Ed. Hagan, Mansfield. Mrs. Brown said she was injured and her car was damaged when the automobile collided with a car driven by Hagan last June in East Mansfield.

Thieves Butcher 450-Pound Calf, Haul It Away

Sheriff E. P. Long was searching today for thieves who butchered a 450-pound calf in a pen on the Charles Wise farm in Worthington township and hauled the animal away in a large automobile or truck.

Wise, who lives in Perrysville, reported the theft yesterday after a farmhand found blood in the pen and the tracks of a large motor vehicle leading away from the barnyard. No one lives on the farm, Deputy Sheriff Glenn Freeman said.

CHAPTER 11

Dr. Thornton Holgate had meant exactly what he said when he called on Sara Sue Davis, Incorporated. Truly, love had come to him. Or so he felt. When he had left her cottage late that night, Sara Sue had promised sincerely to help him all she could in his campaign to win Peaches Pomeroy.

Now, therefore, he was back in her private office for more definite advice, and Sara Sue was giving it to him.

"You say that you are backward, Dr. Holgate. I imagine you are just unnecessarily shy. So, I am ordering you to go to the freshman ball, mingle with the crowd, dance with the prettiest—"

"But, my dear Mrs. Davis, I do not dance!"

Sara Sue smiled.

"That's history, Dr. Holgate. Hereafter you definitely do dance. You are, in fact, going downtown to a dancing academy at once, and take a course of quick private lessons."

"But—um. Very well, madam." His expression was that of a martyr.

"If you will permit it, the learning process will be fun."

"I hope it will be!"

Sara Sue laughed outright. "No! On the contrary, Dr. Holgate, just let it be, can't you? You can't force pleasure. Just relax. Be yourself. Be more—er—undignified. You see what I mean? Pick the prettiest girl and take her to the freshman ball. Dance just the simplest slide-slide steps, it won't matter. Nobody cares. But smile. Laugh. Talk. Tease the girls. Anything."

"Oh! Oh, my!"

She repressed her laughter this time. Not that she was laughing at him derisively, but because he was honestly amusing in his naivete.

"First, though, I have some other instructions. They will be a little easier, although they are very personal, Dr. Holgate."

"I am not easily offended, I am proud to say."

"That's fine! Proof that you can be popular, if you will. Now listen—I have studied you very carefully, analyzed you thoroughly. You have needed a sister or two, I fear, so you must obey me implicitly. Remember, you are under contract to accept my services!"

He managed a polite smile at that himself. And he nodded eagerly

"First, then, discard this suit The trousers are out of style. The cut of the coat is—last year's. Go to any men's shop and get a snappy outfit, Dr. Holgate."

"Thank you. I shall."

"Get some fashionable shirts, ties, sox and oxfords—goodness, young men do not wear high-top shoes, Dr. Holgate!"

"But I am of the faculty, madam, and have been—"

"Hush! You may be all that, but you are human, too. Mind me now, get smart new oxfords, and another pair of lighter ones for dancing, too. Stick a gay hanky in your coat pocket, snap your hat brim down, and come to see me again. That's the assignment for today. Good-by."

* * *

She took a certain pleasure in handling the interview as a teacher would. Actually customer No. 100 was proving to be a lot of fun.

Dr. Holgate let no grass grow under his feet. As soon as classroom requirements permitted, he hastened downtown on a shopping tour

He purchased three suits, donned one of them in the store. The clerk told him, truthfully, that he had a very good figure. "I have loved to swim," Dr. Holgate explained. "It is strengthening, invigorating, and it permits one to engage in meditation undisturbed."

The rather heavy purchase caused the salesman to take a hearty interest in him, so that the professor was fitted in really tasteful details. He emerged from the store looking something like a male model. But he insisted on carrying his two extra suits, boxed under his arm.

He wanted to show these to Sara Sue, and so he went directly to her cottage. That was at 5 p. m., however, and a crowd was there, so he tried to back out the door and go away.

"Dr. Holgate!" Sara Sue spied him

She dragged him back into the entrance hall. "Won-der-ful!" she complimented, whispering. "Leave the parcels here, now, and come on in and mingle with the bunch."

He beamed, and he blushed, but he had no chance whatsoever to hold back or say no. All at once he was in a crowd, and the collegians were singing In his new outfit, Sara Sue was quick to observe, he was more presentable than any of them. He stood near the group, staring.

"Get in it," Sara Sue murmured in his ear, smiling. "Laugh, talk, anything. Do you sing?"

"I do, yes! In fact, I have done some choral work, in Massachusetts. Twice in the Presbyterian choir I was asked to sing solos, but I—"

That was enough for Sara Sue. She was determined to break the professor's shell if it cost a life. She interrupted the gang and addressed them.

"Listen, fellows," she said gaily, "do you know we have a real singer here? Sure enough! Thornton Holgate has agreed to do a solo. What'll it be, Thorny?"

He gazed at her in consternation.

Thorny! No one had called him that since he was a high school student! And whatever could he sing that would appeal to these students?

He swallowed hard, twice. Sara Sue took pity on him.

"How about something we can all join in on a chorus?" she suggested sweetly. "Not your classical pieces, but—can you do 'Home On the Range'?"

A chorus of approval answered her. The gang all knew it, of course. All liked it. Automatically the pianist, a junior girl, began playing the accompaniment.

* * *

Sara Sue poked Dr. Holgate in the back, not too gently, and shoved him near the piano. He was quite flushed, but nobody noticed. Like a novice about to take his first parachute drop, he cleared his throat and pitched in—"O give us a home, where the buffalo roam—"

The crowd listened—with increasing respect. He faltered a trifle at first, but he got into the swing of it rapidly. By the time they had joined him in the first chorus and he had moved into the second stanza, self-assurance had returned.

He caught the zest of singing now and boomed out with a really good baritone.

"Yip-pee, ride 'em cowboy!" some youngster shouted, and the chorus came again.

He leaned over the pianist then, to read the words of the third and fourth stanzas. Quite naturally and matter-of-factly a couple of fellows put their arms over his shoulders and joined him. The harmony was good. Something in him tightened for a second at their contact, but all at once he relaxed and sang even better. When it was done he laughed, quite spontaneously, then looked hastily at Sara Sue. She winked at him, and nodded.

"What did you say your name was? Holgate?" a student asked.

"Ah—yes. Holgate. Thornton Holgate."

"Hadn't met you. Mine's Wilson. Glad to know you, Thorny." The lad extended a hand. "Thought I knew all the seniors. You must be a transfer, or a post-grad?"

"I—ah—yes. I am new here."

Dr. Holgate stammered, shaking hands. "Thank you. Thank you, indeed. It is a pleasure to meet you, ah—Wils."

"Spike's the nickname." Spike grinned, friendly. "Well, come on, let's raid Sara Sue's kitchen. Ought to be some nourishment out here."

Do you often have days when you wake up tired—when you feel dull, sunk, "all bogged down"? It's time you did something about it. And something more than just taking a physic! You should get at the cause of the trouble!

If you eat what most people do—just bread, meat, potatoes—chances are that just this fact is responsible: you don't get enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean a lot of food. It means a kind of food that isn't consumed in the body, but leaves a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines that helps a bowel movement.

If this is your trouble, what you need is crisp crunchy Kellogg's All-Bran for breakfast. It contains "bulk" plus Nature's great intestinal tonic, vitamin B₁.

Eat it every day, drink plenty of water, and see if your old sparkle doesn't come back! Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Mrs. Hahn's Death Chair Fight Before Davey Today

COUNSEL FOR POISON KILLER IN LAST PLEA

Governor Says Reprieve Will Not Be Considered; Life or Death Only Issue.

COLUMBUS—A clemency hearing for Anna Marie Hahn, doomed Cincinnati murderess, was scheduled for today but it appeared hopeless in the face of a statement by Governor Davey that he had no intention of granting a reprieve to the blond woman.

Next Wednesday night is her scheduled execution date and although her clemency hearing today before Daniel Earhart, the governor's executive secretary, is sure to cause widespread publicity, there seemed to be little hope for her.

"There will be no reprieve," Davey said flatly last night "That would be unfair to my successor. I shall decide by Dec. 7, without further delay, whether Mrs. Hahn shall die or whether I shall commute her sentence to life imprisonment."

The sole question, the governor said, was:

"Should I allow a woman to die?"

No Matter of Precedent.

He said that the fact that she would become the first woman ever to die in Ohio's electric chair was of no concern, that it was not a "matter of breaking precedent."

It was just one year ago today that the so-called blond poisoner, smart appearing and well dressed, was led into death row.

Since that time, while she knitted, listened to the radio and read, she has been refused mercy by the Ohio and United States supreme courts.

Once or twice she has shown signs of faltering but has always pulled herself together, believing that from somewhere mercy would arrive.

Arguing her case today before Earhart, who later will make a recommendation to the governor, will be Attorneys Joseph Hoodin and Hiram Bolsinger, of Cincinnati.

They were the men who originally defended her at her trial in Cincinnati and who have carried her case through the highest courts.

Davey, last night, quashed reports that he would extend the case into the reign of his successor, John W. Bricker, Republican governor-elect, when he said "there will be no reprieve."

Mrs. Hahn was convicted specifically of the poison murder of 78-year-old Jacob Wagner. She was accused of implication in the poison deaths of at least five other elderly recluses.

Knox Wife-Killer Calmly Walks To Pen's Death Chair

COLUMBUS—(AP)—A half-smile on his lips, 47-year-old Fred Mosley, Knox county farmer, stepped calmly into the death chamber of Ohio penitentiary last night, watched unperturbed while he was strapped in the chair, and died for the slaying of his wife.

His last request was for bananas, and Warden James C. Woodard sent two from his residence as a dessert for Mosley's final meal of fried chicken. Late in the day he chatted with his sister, Mrs. Ruth Spohr of Mt. Vernon.

Pronounced dead at 8:06 p. m., four minutes after the current was applied, Mosley was the 213th man to die in the chair. His execution left 11 men and one woman in death row.

The farmer was convicted by a Knox county jury of shooting and beating to death his 45-year-old wife, Philla, last March 31, shortly after they and their three children had returned from a theater.

Mosley was charged with the crime, pleaded innocent, then changed his plea to insanity, claiming he killed his wife in a fit of jealous rage when he doubted her fidelity.

King Carol Answers Threat With 'Purge'

Up and Down THE STREET

Students at John Simpson Junior high school will have to go without their annual Christmas program this year for the first time. In the past it has been customary for the glee club and choir to give a joint concert of Christmas carols the Friday preceding the Christmas vacation, but the half-day schedule now in effect prevents the annual gathering, H. J. Dotson, principal, said.

* * *

The first $10 worth of tickets to the Christmas Charity ball were purchased by Phil Wappner. But that's not news, because Phil has been the first person to buy tickets every year for the past four years. It began with the presentation of the first melo-drammer—"Gold In the Hills"—in 1934. Each year he buys a block of tickets on the "pig in the poke" plan, without knowing what the entertainment will be. Usually he asks for tickets before any public announcement has been made of the show, so yesterday after the News-Journal carried the announcement of the Charity ball, Phil was a little breathless when he called two hours after press time and said: "Gee, I'm late this year—are there any tickets left?"

* * *

Members of the Mansfield Schoolmasters club will have no excuse when they forget about any of the club's meeting in the future. Edwin Fensch, teacher at John Simpson Junior high and newly elected publicity chairman of the club, has started publishing "The Teachers Bugle," a one-page mimeographed paper. In addition to announcements of meetings, the paper also carries reports of the last meeting, and articles about various members.

* * *

The hospitality of Wisconsin ranks higher with Sheriff E. P. Long than the kind for which the south is famous, the sheriff said yesterday on his return from Madison and Lake Geneva, Wis. "I've never had better treatment and a warmer welcome than I got up there," he said—and that despite the near zero temperatures he encountered early this week. He made the trip to return a prisoner to Mansfield.

REFUSES BONDS

State Rules Against Request of Monroe Board.

The state tax commission ruled today that the Monroe township school board could not issue bonds for $1,900 for school building funds because of tax limitations in the Monroe district.

The board had requested permission to issue bonds within the 10-mill limitation without a vote to provide additional funds for a school building addition. An $86,000 bond issue for the building was passed previously.

Supt. V. L. Gilliland said refusal of the tax commission to approve the smaller bond issue would require the board to "effect some economies in the building plans but it will not seriously hinder building operations."

Construction of the 10-room addition and gymnasium has been under way for several weeks.

STRIKE CURBS OHIO WPA WORK

Truckers Vote Protest on Hauling Contracts; All Projects Menaced.

(By International News Service)

AKRON—Curtailment of WPA activities in Ohio was seen today in the strike vote of representatives of WPA truck drivers at a meeting in Akron.

According to Carl Hayman, chairman of the organization of owner-drivers, the delegates at the meeting here represented 3,000 to 3,500 drivers in every county of the state.

The strike, Hayman said, was voted as a protest against the WPA policy of awarding hauling contracts through competitive business. It would be statewide, Hayman said. Non-union drivers and those affiliated with the A. F. of L. Teamsters' brotherhood were represented at the meeting.

The strike would curtail WPA activities seriously, as trucks are used in hauling materials to the majority of the state's projects.

Negotiations to end the controversy over award of trucking contracts got nowhere, according to John Rohrich, of Cleveland, truckers' representative on a three-man arbitration board named to settle the dispute.

Rohrich declared that Aubrey Williams, assistant WPA administrator in Washington, had assured the truckers that no new bids would be taken until the dispute was settled.

SINKS IN OCEAN

Boat Collides with Freighter; 22 Seamen Saved.

NORFOLK, Va.—(INS)—The Baltimore pilot boat William B. Tanner sank in 55 feet of water 18 miles southeast of Cape Henry today after colliding with the British freighter Liverbank. The 22 men aboard the pilot boat all were saved.

No one was injured by the collision, which occurred as the Tanner was taking pilots from the Liverbank, bound out from Baltimore port on board.

NAZI SPY RING CONVICTIONS SERVE AS WARNING TO POWERS

(By International News Service)

NEW YORK—Conviction of three persons—two men and a woman—on charges of conspiracy to supply the German government with military secrets of the United States was interpreted by federal agents today as a stern warning for foreign spies to avoid American shores.

Emphasis is likely to be added to this tomorrow when Federal Judge John C. Knox sentences the trio, Johanna Hofmann, former hairdresser aboard the German liner Bremen; Otto Hermann Voss, an airplane mechanic; and Eric Glaser, former private in the U. S. army. Also awaiting sentence is Guenther Gustav Rumrich, twice deserter from the U. S. army, who pleaded guilty to the charges.

Miss Hofmann and Voss may receive the maximum sentence of 20 years in prison. A jury recommendation for mercy may reduce Glaser's punishment. Rumrich also may escape the maximum penalty because of his testimony for the government. He was a principal witness against Voss and Glaser, German-born American citizens, and the 27-year-old hairdresser who still is a German citizen.

The ten men and two women jurors who convicted Miss Hofmann and Voss in six hours were deadlocked nearly 24 hours before reaching a verdict on Glaser. Judge Knox, agreeing with the jury that Glaser was guilty, remarked:

"I am glad that the government prosecuted this case. I am glad that espionage by a foreign country was revealed, so that our people might realize what is taking place when we are supposed to be at peace with all the other nations of the world."

ORDERS ARREST OF MEMBERS OF FASCIST GUARD

Note Demanding Monarch to 'Make Peace' Contains Veiled Threat.

(By United Press)

BUCHAREST, Rumania—King Carol II answered a threat of assassination today by ordering the arrest of all members of the Fascist Anti-Semitic Iron Guard, whose "fuehrer" and 13 high leaders were slain by prison guards yesterday.

Revenge assassinations of high government officials were considered to be more than mere possibilities and suspected members of the outlawed organization were being rounded up throughout the country. The king met with members of the cabinet and sanctioned the most severe repressive measures.

Gendarmerie were told that they might "dispense with the form required by law," or in other words, "shoot to kill" if they met with resistance.

Offers 'Last Choice.'

These severe repressive measures were decreed after the distribution of an Iron Guard pamphlet personally addressed to the king which offered him a "last choice." It said:

"Your Majesty: Either you make your peace with the Rumanian nation or we must find another solution." This was interpreted as a threat against Carol's life.

The pamphlets were distributed from house to house in Bucharest as it became known that Corneliu Zelea Codreanu, Rumania's "little Hitler," had been killed allegedly while attempting to escape from prison guards.

Recent anti-Semitic disorders had been interpreted in official circles as a prelude to an Iron Guard campaign of terrorism against the government involving grave jeopardy to the king.

This was climaxed two days ago by an attempt to assassinate Dr. Francis Stefanescu-Goanaga, rector of Cluj university, an "Aryan" but an enemy of the Iron Guard.

DIES IN MARION

Howard Burns, 40, Was Former Mansfield Resident.

Howard T. Burns, 40, a former Mansfield resident, died Wednesday at his home in Marion following a brief illness.

Born Dec. 3, 1897, in Galion, Mr. Burns had lived in Mansfield until nine years ago. While here he was employed at the Aultman-Taylor company. At the time of his death he was employed as chief clerk at the Erie railroad yards in Marion.

Surviving are his wife, Blanche, formerly of Mansfield; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burns of Ashland; one sister, Mrs. Ethel Roselip of Mansfield, and four brothers, J. B. Burns of Mansfield, Russell of Wooster, Cloyd of Mifflin and Lester of Ashland.

Short funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. Saturday at the Curtis funeral home in Marion, followed by services at Ashland cemetery where burial will be made. Mr. Burns will be buried on the day he was to have celebrated his 41st birthday anniversary.

DIES AT AGE 42

Mrs. Flossie Newton Was Former Resident of Mansfield.

Mrs. Flossie Harden Newton, 42 former Mansfield resident, died early today at her home in Chesterville after a long illness.

Born near Chesterville, Mrs. Newton made her home in Mansfield for a number of years, moving to Chesterville about six years ago.

She is survived by her husband William, seriously ill at Mt. Carmel hospital in Columbus; a son Clarence of Mansfield; a daughter, Florence at home, and two brothers, Mont and Dale Harden both of Mansfield.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

FAIR ENOUGH!

Discussion of Coughlin's Statements Over the Air On Jews and Communism

—By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK—Father Coughlin was correct in contending that many Jews have been vigorous Communists in Russia and elsewhere, but it would be equally true and equally unfair to the members of his own faith in the United States to point out that Fascism started in a Catholic country and that a Catholic cardinal welcomed the Nazis to Austria.

Father Coughlin said that by their failure to use the press the radio and the banking houses, "where they stand so prominently," to fight Communism as vigorously as they fight Nazi-Fascism, the Jews invite the charge of being supporters of Communism.

* * *

If that is so, however, it must follow that American Catholics have a similar obligation to oppose Fascism and Nazism as vigorously as they fight Communism. It will be conceded, I suppose, that both Communism and Nazi-Fascism are equally inimical to the American ideal and that Nazi-Fascism is more actively dangerous to this country at the moment.

It would be foolish to pretend that the hatred of Nazi-Fascism among Jews is purely intellectual and political. It would be hated much less if it were not anti-Semitic, and some Jews might even indorse it as a system of government. But the Jesuits themselves are Communists in a sense, and the Catholic opposition to Communism is largely due to religious considerations.

The Spanish Loyalists persecute Catholics. Therefore the Catholic clergy and press and many of the laymen also cry "outrage!" and hate the Loyalist side.

* * *

But it is no more true to say that all American Jews are Communists or fellow-travelers or to accuse them of tolerating Communism than it is to say that American Catholics are Nazi-Fascists or that they sympathize with Italy and Germany, which, in league with Japan, are fomenting hostility toward this country's ideals and material interests

* * *

Father Coughlin will yet turn out to be the greatest aid and comfort to the recurrent anti-Catholic movement in the United States. These waves rise and fall, and when the next one sweeps along great emphasis will be placed on reports of an open-air meeting in Brooklyn during the presidential campaign of 1936 at which Father Coughlin, of Detroit, a Catholic priest and politician, was attended by an honorary bodyguard of armed and uniformed men.

This incident will be exploited as evidence of a private militia, and although neither Catholics nor the Catholic church were at all concerned in it, by Father Coughlin's own method of argument in holding all Jews accountable for the activities of some Jews the armed guard episode will be fair material. It needn't even be true, because Father Coughlin himself has established precedent for the use of unverified but sensational material.

* * *

I doubt, also, that the Brooklyn Tablet, a Catholic publication, would be willing to accept in that case a condition which it laid down last week in discussing Father Coughlin's latest controversy.

"He said openly what millions are saying in their ordinary conversation at home and on the streets," the Tablet said.

That probably is true, but there have been times when millions of people in this country said, in their ordinary conversation at home and on the streets, many vicious and utterly false things about Catholics and Catholicism, and a time may come when they will say them again.

And right now if some anti-Catholic orator were to take the air as prominently as Father Coughlin did and accuse all the Catholics of the United States of being Nazi-Fascists or Nazi-Fascist sympathizers, of plotting to deliver this country to the Pope, Mussolini or Hitler, the Brooklyn Tablet would be less tolerant of the open declaration of every canard currently on the lips of many individuals. The Tablet is not famous for its tolerance.

* * *

By Father Coughlin's own argument it would be fair and just to hold that Catholics exert a corrupting influence in American politics because Tammany Hall and the New York City hall were dominated by Catholic politicians in days of atrocious corruption and because the same phenomenon has occurred in Jersey City and Kansas City—a fact which, incidentally, has been discussed by millions in their ordinary conversations at home and on the streets.

Hollywood Speaks—

—By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—The kid who won't look at a girl is going to tuck away about $100,000 when he leaves Hollywood.

And there have been reports that there are plenty of girls in Hollywood who will look at a hundred-grand any day of the week.

This puts Douglas Corrigan in a tight spot. It is obvious, too, that he is aware of it, but is being brave about it.

Not, mind you, to the extent of taking unnecessary chances. He sticks pretty close to his producer's office when he is at the studio, getting ready to make his picture, and he won't go near the commissary at lunch time. His lunchlessness, he will tell you, is merely habit, but you can draw your own conclusions. Any studio commissary swarms with pretty girls.

"I knew I was taking a chance coming here in the first place," said Doug, grinning. "But I've got one break—there's been so many stories printed about my bein' a woman-hater the girls don't seem to bother me."

The Corrigan grin is still undimmed by Hollywood. The film story of his life, "The Flying Irishman," was still being prepared, after several delays, when I talked to him. But Doug was inclined to leave all that to the people who are making the picture—and that was the first shock I had.

* * *

The stories about him, since the first enthusiasm over his Irish flight, have not been too good. You could hear—and read—how the headlines went to his head. You could hear how he said things—like the things quoted above—which made him sound like the most conceited young fool this side of a movie camera.

Corrigan says things like that, but he says them with that grin, and with his fingers nervously pulling at each other. He says them, too, with an embarrassed laugh. He's probably the most publicity-conscious youngster of the year—even though he disclaims any interest in what is written about him—but he doesn't plan carefully enough to say the right thing. Meaning the cagey thing.

* * *

Anyway, if it went to his head once, I think he's recovered. He's a likeable kid and nervously shy.

After a while the grin makes you wonder. "Don't you ever get mad?"

"Sure, once in a while," he grins some more, "but then I get to thinking it won't make much difference a year from now and it ain't worth it."

The picture will parallel, though not exactly, Corrigan's own life story. There won't be any romantic interest—"but that's as much their idea as mine," he said.

I saw Corrigan's screen test, and if you're worried about him, don't be. The lad will get by—largely on that grin, his greatest screen asset. His acting is—well, about as good as yours or mine would be, first time up, and he's so camera-shy it's painful, but he's game—and he isn't planning an acting career.

Not enough ambition, he says. Just doesn't care. Thinks, after this, he'll try a job in the experimental end of aviation. Working of new gadgets—and then going up for the test flight.

"That's the most fun," said the kid who won't look at a girl and won't take chances.

PRESENTS PAPER ON TROPICS BEFORE CLUB

Mrs. George Anson Gives Program at Wednesday Study Club Meeting; Miss Ruth Burke, Guest, Talks on Art.

A SURPRISE element figured in the regular program of the Wednesday Study club yesterday when Miss Ruth Burke, New York, N. Y., was introduced following the principal speaker. Mrs. George Anson, to talk on miniatures in wax. Mrs. George Draffan, Millsborough road, was hostess for the session.

"Birds and Plants of the Tropics" was the general topic of Mrs. Anson's paper, and she presented biographical data about three of the greatest naturalists, Audubon, John Muir and Frank Chapman. Following her talk many of the members who have traveled in the tropics contributed interesting items on the subject.

Miss Burke, who is a house guest engaged in making a miniature of Mrs. Draffan's daughter, gave a brief history of wax miniatures, telling that they were popular in the fifteenth century. Miss Burke and one other woman are the only two artists now expressing in this form. She exhibited several examples of the work.

Other guests were Mrs. L. W. Frizzell, Pittsburgh, Pa., honorary member, Mrs. Robert Black, Mrs. Donald Black, Mrs. Martin Strickler, Mrs. Gerald Moore and Mrs. Hubert Tappan, California. Mrs. Paul Sturges and Mrs. Alan Tappan presided at the tea table.

The next meeting will be a sealed Christmas program, Dec. 14, at the home of Mrs. Edward Loughridge.

OFFERS BOOK REVIEW AT JOURNEY SESSION

Mrs. C. V. McConnell Reports on "With Malice Toward Some"; Current Topics Given by Mrs. Anna Miller Yesterday.

THE much talked of book, "With Malice Toward Some," by Margaret Halsey, was reviewed yesterday by Mrs. C. V. McConnell when Mrs. H. C. Finefrock, Lind avenue, entertained 15 members and two guests of the Journey club. The book, which is a diary kept by the wife of an American exchange professor in England, was in keeping with the club's general study program for the year.

Miss Halsey's book is a satire on English living, and a commentary on life abroad, the attitudes, manners and customs of the people in Great Britain and on the continent.

After the short business meeting Mrs. Anna Miller gave the current events which dealt with the new dams being built in the United States. Mrs. Herman Siegenthaler and Mrs. Robert Frey were the guests. Tea was served at a buffet table presided over by Mrs. O. C. McCormick, club president, and Mrs. Siegenthaler. The next regular meeting will be Dec. 14 at the home of Mrs. W. J. Spreng on Park avenue west. Mrs. Emerson Weller is scheduled to present a paper on Queen Victoria.

She Asks Him Not to Tell Of Love

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I've known my girl friend for over a year now, as we both graduated from the same high school, and we've been actually going together for part of that time. Understanding that she intended going to college this fall, I stopped calling at her house. One day I saw her accidentally and made a date. Since then we have been seeing each other twice of three times weekly.

I really love this girl, but whenever I tell her of my love, she says I'll be telling that to someone else soon. She threatens to stop seeing me entirely if I continue to make love.

I see her only once a week now, and if she stops me entirely, life wouldn't be worth shucks. I know she has no one else. We are both over 19 years old.

SAM.

At your age, a young man must have patience, and it looks as if you'd have to cultivate that virtue, if you want to keep this girl thinking well of you.

Don't tell her of your love, if she tells you not to. Anyway, my dear, she knows that, for the love of one person for another is almost impossible to conceal.

Be nice to her, even devoted, but don't do what she asks you not to—that is, persist in telling her you love her.

* * *

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

After being married ten years, my husband and I separated because of another woman whom he was going to marry—or so I understood. We have a little girl of six. We lived apart for several months and then he asked to come back. I love him dearly and took him back.

Now this other woman persists in calling him on the telephone whenever she comes to town. Shall I write and ask her not to bother my husband anymore? I don't believe my husband loves her, for I was perfectly willing to divorce him so he could marry her.

BLANCHE.

My advice to you is to ignore this woman. Your husband came back to you of his own free will, and if there's anything that is more of a nuisance than this sort of a person, I've yet to find it. That lady is qualifying as a thirty-third degree bore.

Marriage Meddlers

By ADELE GARRISON

Continuation of "Married Comrades"

"Here is what I have planned," I said. "You will call a taxi for yourself and ask for a bell boy. When he comes up, give him this luggage of ours and follow him downstairs. When you are in the taxi, tell him to take you to one of the department stores. When you are well away from the hotel, change your direction, tell him you haven't time to stop at the store as you intended, that it is later than you thought, and tell him to take you to the Pennsylvania station instead. When you get there go through the station to the Long Island side. Go into the women's waiting room, and stay there until we come. Can you do that at once?"

"I only have to get my hat, coat, gloves and purse," she returned imperturbably. Rising, she started for her room.

"She's the world's best bet, isn't she?" Mary whispered as the nurse closed the door of her room behind her.

Nurse Is Ready.

"Pretty nearly," I assented, and then waited until in a minute Miss Whitlock returned, garbed for the street.

"Shall I telephone for the taxi now?" she asked.

"In a minute," I told her. "Before you do, I want you to make sure that you have your story ready when you return here."

"When will that be-" she returned with a smile.

"As soon as we have met you at the station and are safely away. Then you will come back here and, stopping at the desk, say to the clerk that I asked you to give him a message which I was too rushed when I left to deliver to him. You see, as soon as you are gone, Mary and I will take our purses and go out of the hotel as if we were simply going for a walk or shopping. We will do some fancy dodging and shifting, and hope to connect with you at the station some time without a detective on our trail."

Mary Lauds Scheme.

"Oh, boy! what a swell scheme!" Mary exclaimed admiringly, and Miss Whitlock seconded her swiftly.

"It sounds very good," she said, "and I'm sure you'll succeed."

"I hope so," I said gratefully. "And now for the message I want you to give the clerk."

"Tell him," I said after a little, "that Mrs Veritzen has not been well for several days, and that her aunt decided very suddenly to take her away for a few days to friends of hers down on the Jersey coast. Tell him there is no telephone there, but any very urgent message can always be relayed through my attorney who is the only one who always has my address."

"My sainted great-aunt's first husband!" Mary ejaculated. "What a yarn! What a yarn! Wouldn't I like to be a mouse in the wall when my revered papa-in-law is handed that message upon telephoning me, as he may do any minute. Which reminds me, darling. We'd better fly. Suppose Papa should telephone while we're still here?"

Would Be Better.

"It will be better if he does," I told her. "Then I can put up a plausible story about your lying down with a nervous headache, and that while he may speak to you, not to keep you talking long, as you are exceedingly nervous and weak. That will prepare the way for the later report which the hotel will give him."

"Mebbe so, mebbe so," Mary said pessimistically, "but I'll be just as pleased if I don't hear him over the telephone before I go to see my husband. I think I'd be so scared I'd almost back out of the trip."

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, Dec. 2.

The lunar transits for this day may be expected to give excellent impetus to employment, industry, relations with superiors and those in power, with the prospect of advancement, preferments and probably increased finances. Elders also seem to play an important part, through inheritance, trust or insurance. However, there is much concern regarding the bereavement or grave condition of an elderly person.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a year of advancement, promotion or other marks of preferment from employers, elders or superiors. There also are auguries of gifts, insurance, bequest or trust, although there may be much grave concern regarding an elderly person. Be discreet in social matters and safeguard finances.

A child born on this day may be steady, studious, profound and responsible, attracting the attention and preferment of those in places of power and influence. At the same time, it may be inclined to remain aloof, enjoying solitude and a life of contemplation.

Teach Children To Cook

By ALICE LYNN BARRY

Do your children leave home for the homes of their friends? If they do, it may be because home isn't what it should be, a place where they can "putter" and play.

Psychologists say that children learn all sorts of desirable traits when they are allowed to share in the household tasks. One of our leading progressive schools found that children liked best, not their expensive gymnasium, but the kitchen.

It may be hard on mother, but the trend seems to indicate teaching junior and sis to cook. The young ones may just as well learn a little thrift, economy and health values while they are about it. They may just as well learn to select the proper foods—and to eat fruits of their labors. Stuffing dates is an easy kitchen lesson; making simple drinks is a good trick, too. Simple candies and cookies can continue from there, with the "diploma" course up to you.

To teach the children to make spiced dates, add cinnamon to sugar; or add cocoa to the sugar for chocolate flavor. For some nice stuffings that the children can easily prepare, cut one-quarter pound marshmallows into quarters with wet scissors. Stuff each date with a piece, leaving cut side up, then dip in shredded cocoanut. Or to one-third cup peanut butter add slowly five tablespoons fresh orange juice and one-half teaspoon grated orange rind. Stuff dates and sprinkle with chopped salted peanuts.

Easy to Prepare.

Banana-orange milk shake is easy for the children to prepare. Slice a fully ripe banana into a bowl and beat with a rotary beater or electric mixer till creamy; press through a medium mesh wire strainer with a spoon. Add one-half cup each cold milk and orange juice, one-half teaspoon sugar and mix thoroughly. Serve at once. It makes one large or two medium drinks

Beginner's muffins call for one cup sifted flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one-quarter teaspoon soda, one teaspoon baking powder, two tablespoons sugar, one well-beaten egg, two tablespoons melted shortening or oil, two tablespoons sour milk or buttermilk, and one cup thinly-sliced bananas (two bananas). Sift together the flour, salt, soda, baking powder and sugar. Combine the egg shortening, milk and sliced banana. Stir until banana is broken into little pieces. Combine liquid and dry ingredients, stirring only enough to dampen all the flour. Bake in well-greased muffin tins in 400 degrees F. oven 30 to 35 minutes. It makes four large or eight small muffins.

"The Authority on Authorities"

WONDERS NEVER CEASE

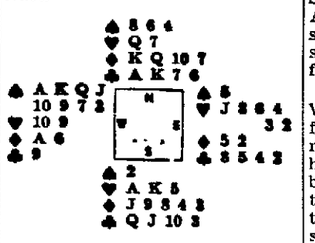
NOBODY WOULD EVER dare predict in advance some of the peculiar things that happen on bridge hands. Too often to believe, almost, a player with an apparently worthless hand manages to take a trick with some insignificant little card which happens to decide the success or failure of the contract.



(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable).

North bid 1-Club on this deal, South 1-Diamond, West 3-Spades, North 4-Diamonds and South 5-Diamonds, which West doubled.

Holding the trump A, West figured if, in addition to that and a spade, he could get a club ruff, he could prevent South from making the contract. He therefore led his singleton club and declarer won. South then led a trump to West's A. West could possibly cash one spade trick, but that would not be sufficient to kill declarer's chance for game.

How to get East in the lead was West's problem, and the chances for that were very slim. One slight ray of hope was that East might hold the spade 5 and the 4 might be played from dummy. He took the chance of sacrificing a possible trick in order to gain two. The spade 3 was his lead, on which the 4 was played from dummy. East put up the 5 and it held the trick. The reason for the underlead was quite apparent to East, who returned a club for the setting trick.

If you like a faint flavoring of onion rub a slice of onion around your salad bowl or serving dish. The resulting flavor is light but satisfactory. Garlic used in the same manner requires much more careful handling, since fewer people enjoy a garlic taste.

Celery leaves, sprigs and slices of onion may be used effectively and economically to season soups. Add the seasoning to the soup while it is cooking and strain it before it is served.

Eye Shadow Should Be Used Carefully

By MME. QUI VIVE

Touching the eyelids with a bit of pigment is a thrilling adventure to the young beauty quester. To the older one, too, if she has never tried it. It can make more violent changes in the facescape than rouge or lip coloring. It can put some girls into the front row of the beauty chorus, throw others into the beauty discard.

Eye shadows are evening luxuries. No woman yet lived who could put them on so deftly that the cruel light of day didn't make them look messy. We have no prejudices any more about artifice. Consider the lip stick that has flourished like a house afire for 20 years. It looked like a sin in the old days; now a woman's face is naked without it. There's no feeling against eye shadows. But if they're not worn beautifully and at the right time they are cosmetic dynamite.

The utmost discretion must be exercised to find a flattering, effective color. In some beauty shops there are makeup booths with open containers. There, under the supervision of a trained operator, one can experiment to one's little heart's desire.
